CITY SEARCH ON FOR HIT-RUN MOTORIST

Early Local Voting Light To Medium

4-Year Old Boy Struck By Car On E. Union St.

Main Interest Is Centered On 3 Contests

City's Precinct 3B, Exception To Lag, Has 'Heavy' Vote

Local voters were showing only a so-so interest in today's primary election during the early hours. The morning turnout at the polls was described as "light to medium".

An exception to the lag in interest, reported statewide, appeared to be Circleville's precinct 3-B. Workers at the polls said the turnout there was "heavy", and that 63 had cast ballots up to noon.

Interest here was centered on only three contests among candidates for county office. Both of the major parties had contests for Pickaway County commissioner, and the third contest was for sheriff, on the Democratic ticket.

Two places are open on the three-member board of county commissioners. Chairman Bill Goode, Democrat, and Commissioner Lyman Penn, Republican, are both seeking re-election.

OTHER DEMOCRATS seeking nomination for county commissioner are: Hewitt Cromley, William B. Johnson, L. L. Melvin and Clyde E. Michel.

Other Republicans in the contest are Wayne Hines and Charles Carter.

Ex-Truman Aides Facing Tax-Fix Trial

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The government called its first witnesses today in the tax-fixing trial of two men who held high places in the Truman administration.

The accused are Matthew J. Connelly, former appointments secretary at the White House; T. Lamar Caudle, fired by former President Truman as head of the Justice Department's Tax Division and Harry I. Schwimmer, Puerto Rican businessman and onetime Kansas City attorney.

They are charged with conspiracy to stall and sidetrack the prosecution of Irving Sachs, St. Louis shoe manufacturer who was fined $40,000 in 1951 for income tax evasion.

Wyllis Newcomb, special assistant to the attorney general and chief prosecutor for the trial, charged in his opening statement Connelly and Caudle received oil royalties from Schwimmer for their help.

Schwimmer was attorney for Sachs.

Connelly got a $3,600 royalty and Caudle one for $3,300, the prosecutor said. He said Caudle gave his back "only after a St. Louis grand jury had started an investigation to determine if the Sachs case was fixed."

The 51-year-old Caudle, now an attorney in Wadesboro, N. C., was fired by Truman for having conflicting outside interests. Connelly, 48, now is a New Yorker.

Church Sniper To Take Tests

NEW YORK (AP)—An unemployed handyman who admits firing a volley of shots that killed one worshiper and wounded five others outside a Romanian church has been sent to Bellevue Hospital for mental observation.

Romanian-born Todurchi Sava, 61, surrendered to Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan yesterday.

Sava later said he had fired the shots, adding:

"But I wanted to scare. I didn't want to hit."

SHATTERED by a hit and run driver in Los Angeles, the victim's crutch is placed on the stretcher with Mary Forman, 65, by ambulance attendant Jack Wilson. She died of her injuries at General hospital shortly afterward.

Dems Set To Unlimber Guns On Hells Canyon Dam Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic leaders were reported clearing the way today to bring the controversial Hells Canyon Dam bill before the Senate for a pre-election assault on President Eisenhower's power policies.

Party leaders were represented as ready to recommend the transfer of Sen. Long of Louisiana from the interior to the Foreign Relations Committee in a shakeup of Democratic assignments following the death last week of Sen. Alben Barkley of Kentucky.

If this move gains expected approval of the Democratic Steering Committee and the Senate, Long would be replaced on the Interior

Herald Preparing Election Service

Nearly all of the local interest in today's primary election is centered on three contests—in both major parties for Pickaway County commissioner and on the Democratic ticket for sheriff.

In addition, many local residents will be anxious to learn how county voters lined up for the races that go beyond the county. And what sort of tally the unopposed candidates drew in this district.

The Herald will offer its customary election return service tonight, beginning at 7:30 p. m. and ending at 10 p. m. By the latter hour, it is believed winners will be apparent in all of the county contests.

To call The Herald news department, phone 580 or 581.

Dayton Girl Falls In Love With Fishmonger In Greece

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—A 21-year-old Ohio girl and a handsome Greek fishmonger who fell in love by mail came out of hiding today and said they would marry over the protests of the girl's mother.

Mrs. George Milton of Dayton, Ohio, had gone to the police, charging her chestnut-haired daughter Elaine disappeared last Saturday with John Sideris, 31, while his parents pinioned Mrs. Milton so she could not stop them.

"I love John and we are going to be married," Elaine said after she and her fiancé voluntarily turned up at the police station. "I was not kidnapped. That is untrue. If my family does not want us, we will live in Greece."

A plain girl dressed in an expensive polka-dotted cotton dress and flat shoes, Elaine spoke defiantly.

Her mother, sitting beside her in a senior police official's office, snapped:

"I am still against marriage."

Mrs. Milton and her daughter arrived in Greece a few days ago. They had seen photographs of Sideris, whom relatives in America suggested Elaine should come over to meet as a possible bride groom.

Only 1 In 4 Expected To Mark Ballot

Election Chiefs Report Turnout Running From Light To Very Light

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohioans went to the polls under sunny skies today, but balloting in the state's primary election was reported from light to very light.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown who earlier predicted that about one out of every four eligible voters would go to the polls—about 1,487,900—said he saw no reason to revise his estimate.

Brown said the fair and cool weather could help bring out the vote in metropolitan areas but might not into the farm vote.

Brown said many farmers, hampered in their spring work by recent rains, were expected to stay home and take advantage of the good weather.

Election board officials in Cleveland, center of the state's most populous area, said the balloting there was "very, very light." In Cincinnati, officials said only one or two voters showed up at some polling places in the first hour and one polling place had no visitors in that time. Columbus election board observers said early balloting was "extremely light."

IN AKRON, balloting started rather slowly but picked up as the morning advanced. In Springfield, voting was much lighter than usual.

Chief statewide interest centered on the Republican and Democratic races for the nominations for governor. Two GOP aspirants and five Democratic hopefuls bid for votes and a chance to succeed five-term Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

Lausche was unopposed in his bid for the Democratic nomination (Continued on Page Two)

104 Persons Hurt As Truck Rams Train

WAUKESHA, Wis. (AP)—More than 100 schoolchildren and teachers were injured yesterday when their baseball excursion train was wrecked in a collision with a loaded gravel truck.

The diesel locomotive remained on the tracks, but 10 of the 16 cars hurtled off the rails. The train was carrying 907 pupils and their adult escorts from Portage in south central Wisconsin to Milwaukee for a Milwaukee - Brooklyn baseball game.

A total of 104 persons were admitted to two hospitals. Thirty-seven, 23 of them children, remained overnight. None was listed in critical condition.

The crash driver, Gordon Hinckley, 35, Waukegan, Wis., suffered compound fractures of both legs and internal injuries. He was listed in "fair" condition.

The crash occurred at the DuPlainville crossing, five miles north of here and 23 miles west of Milwaukee.

Engineer George Ives, 56, Oconomowoc, said the truck "hit the first coach so hard that gravel was thrown over the coaches. That car was struck so hard that it went off the track first, causing derailment of the other nine coaches."

Ives said the crossing is designated as a 70 mph zone and that he had slowed down to that speed.

B52 Production Schedule Raised

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson today disclosed the production schedule for B52 bombers has been raised to 20 a month, and said "it is not so" that the Soviets are "far outstripping the U. S. in air power."

Wilson said the current output of the eight-jet, intercontinental, B52 is 6 a month although production had been planned at the rate of 17 a month.

He said he would have preferred to keep these figures secret, but "because of the confusion and doubt that have arisen on this matter I believe it desirable to set the record straight."

Students In Algiers Demand French Crush Old Rebellion

ALGIERS (AP)—A howling mob of 2,000 French students rioted in Algeria's capital today, demanding a tougher French fight to put down the 18-month-old nationalist rebellion in the North African territory.

Shouting "L'arme au pouvoir!" (Put the army in power!), the students hurled tomatoes at French Resident Minister Robert Lacoste and fired chairs from sidewalk cafes at police who attacked them with tear gas bombs.

The new outburst against Premier Guy Mollet's policies followed two days of a stepped-up rebel campaign in which 20 European settlers have been killed and more than 50 French farms burned out.

The nationalists staged two attacks only 23 miles from Algiers during the night, killing six Arabs who had served with French forces.

In neighboring French Morocco, comparatively calm since France granted it independence, four armed Moroccans kidnaped a French major who commanded the army center at Fes.

The French meanwhile claimed a 4-to-1 toll of their Arab opponents. They reported 97 rebels had been killed during the past two days, 73 in a battle near Constantine.

Lacoste was not hit by the tomorrow barrage because of strong police guard moved in quickly to push back the demonstrators. Police finally dispersed the mob.

French officials said a well-armed band of 60 uniformed rebels infiltrated St. Pierre-St. Paul, 23 miles southeast of Algiers, last night and kidnaped six former Arab troops. The missing men were found this morning with their throats slit.

At Alma, three farms belonging to Europeans were attacked. Buildings were burned, cattle slain and farm machinery was smashed. The owners of the farms had long ago quit staying on their properties at night.

The French commander at Fes, Morocco, was seized only 200 yards from his home and whisked away in an auto.

Authorities identified the victim as Major Rey. The kidnapers' motive is obscure. Andre Dubois, French high commissioner for Morocco, and Interior Minister M. Hammed, controller of Morocco's newly independent police, are directing an investigation.

The kidnaping was the second Dulles OKs Aid To Israeli Army

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles has told U. S. allies this country will do all it can to help them send arms to Israel while maintaining its own embargo on weapons shipments to the Middle East.

This was learned authoritatively today following Dulles' return from a North Atlantic Treaty meeting in Paris.

Dulles declared on arriving here that NATO still is primarily a military organization. But he said a need has been recognized for its further development "to surmount the shifting tactics of international communism," and added:

"No time is to be lost in realizing this enlarged goal for NATO."

The secretary is expected to expand on this theme in a report on his trip to be carried by radio and television networks tonight. The address is scheduled at 8 p. m. EST.

Dulles is reported to have talked about the arms-for-Israel question during a side meeting with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau.

It Takes Time For Conscience To Start Hurting

MIDDLETOWN (AP)—William T. Mereshon walked into police headquarters and said he wanted to confess a crime that had bothered him for some time.

He said he got tired of waiting for a discharge from the Army at a Kentucky military camp and "took off" for Cincinnati.

Mereshon said he served in the Third, Eighth and Fifteenth Cavalry regiments and completed a tour of duty in the Philippines before returning to camp.

Police told him to return home. Detectives said they would check the story and would "come and get you later if we need you."

But officials may have trouble finding records of Mereshon. He is 61 and the alleged desertion occurred 37 years ago, in 1919.

City Police Report Thomas Stevens' Condition 'Critical'

A four-year old boy was struck by a hit-and-run car, approximately in front of his home, around noon today.

Thomas Stevens of 371 E. Union St. was rushed to Berger Hospital. City police said they understood the boy was in "critical" condition.

Police reported they had "about 25 different" descriptions of the car which struck the lad. All available officers are busy tracking down leads.

Details of the accident were sketchy in first reports. Police said there were many versions of the accident.

ONE WOMAN resident said she understood the boy was waiting for his brother to come home from school. The brother apparently was on the opposite side of the street, she added.

She said the injured boy may have run out into the street to meet his brother.

Trial Starts In Fatal Love Triangle Case

PAINESVILLE (AP)—A deputy coroner testified today he found 42 knife wounds on the body of handsome Rudy Longo, slain by a husband who surprised Longo with his wife.

Dr. Francis Januszewski was the first state witness in the manslaughter trial of the husband, Douglas Gott, 26.

The witness said the wounds included both stabs and slashes. Gott killed Longo, 27, last Dec. 9 in a basement room of Longo's tavern where he caught his wife and Longo nude and in an intimate embrace.

Gott also slashed his wife, but she recovered in a hospital. The couple has reunited and live with their children, 4 and 2, at Mentor on the Lake. Gott has been free on bond.

Gott's attorney, J. Melvin Andrews, said the defense will hold that "no man shall violate the wife of another."

The state argued that Gott should be punished for taking a life, regardless of his motive.

Truman, Now 72, Off For Europe

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman was 72 today but there was no birthday party at his home.

He and Mrs. Truman took an early morning train for New York, where they will sail aboard the liner United States Friday on a trip to Europe.

Truman will receive an honorary degree from Oxford University June 20 and return to the United States July 5.

Archer Warns Against Lack Soil Planning

Don Archer of the Soil Conservation Service for this district warned today that mere "lip service" and empty planning will not be enough to save the natural resources of the land.

His warning was in connection with the current Soil Stewardship Week, an annual faith and proper care of the nation's farm soil. In addition this year, Archer stressed that the observance also seeks to reduce accidents on the farm.

Many churches in the district gave special recognition to Soil Stewardship Week when the observance opened Sunday.

Archer said: "We're inclined to give lip service to such things as soil conservation and the wise use of our natural resources. But in Pickaway County we're going to need more than lip service and plans that fail to carry through."

"WE ARE going to have to remember that we are shaping our own destiny and the destiny of generations to come by what we do, or fail to do, in the way of proper care of our farm soil. We have shared a divine blessing in the form of fertile soil, a temperate climate and enough rainfall.

"But many times we have wasted much through neglect and ignorance—failing to heed the lessons that anyone can see written on the face of farmlands across the nation. We must learn the danger of this neglect, and we must begin learning now."

Voters In Five States Going To Polls Today

Maryland Dems OK Tydings; Big Interest Now In Indiana Ballot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Five states held primary elections today in the wake of yesterday's primary in Maryland where Democrats gave Millard Tydings a hairline edge in his fight to regain the U. S. Senate seat he lost in 1950.

Residents of Ohio, Indiana, Florida, West Virginia and New Mexico were balloting today, but national interest centered chiefly on the relative Republican-Democratic vote in Indiana.

Republicans expected to get most, as usual, but Democrats hoped for a substantial farm vote switchover. Relative performances of President Eisenhower on the Republican and Sen. Estes Kefauver on the Democratic side were sure to be watched closely.

In the Maryland vote, nearly complete returns gave Tydings a narrow popular vote lead over George P. Mahoney, challenging him for the Democratic nomination for the seat now held by Republican Sen. Butler.

REPORTS FROM 1,261 of 1,277 precincts gave Tydings 138,915 votes to 131,219 for Mahoney. The popular vote could be the deciding factor since they were tied 76-76 in unit votes for nomination—similar to presidential electoral votes.

But Mahoney forces talked of possible recounts in subdivisions where the popular vote was close. Mahoney, a Baltimore contractor, could win if he gained more unit votes—which go to the candidate getting most votes in a subdivision.

Butler unseated Tydings in 1950 after a bitter campaign. Butler himself handily won GOP renomination yesterday.

Maryland Democrats gave their 18 national convention votes to Kefauver, who was opposed only by an unopposed delegation. He won by a much narrower margin than in 1952.

Eisenhower defeated an unpledged GOP slate by a heavy margin. Highlights of today's primaries: WEST VIRGINIA—There was no presidential preference voting and delegates are not tied to any candidate, but 10 candidates were seeking the Senate seat of the late Harley Kilgore.

The retiring governor, William C. Mahan, is one of five Democrats bidding for the nomination. Former Sen. Chapman Revercomb is one of five Republicans seeking the GOP nomination.

FLORIDA—A six-man tussle for governor, which means election in predominantly Democratic Florida, highlighted the voting.

The field includes the incumbent, Leroy Collins, and former Gov. Fuller Warren. If no candidate gets a majority, the two top men will fight it out again May 29.

Florida residents also vote May 29 in an important presidential preference primary featuring a clash between Kefauver and Stevenson.

NEW MEXICO—There was no presidential preference voting. Gov. John F. Simms seeks renomination in the Democratic primary and is opposed by Ingram B. Pickett. Simms supports Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination. Pickett favors Gov. Averell Harriman.

Edwin L. Mechem has no GOP primary opposition in his attempt to become the first New Mexican governor ever to regain the job after leaving office.

Gov. Lausche Casts Absentee Ballot

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche didn't vote today. His primary election ballot went in several days ago.

The governor said he cast an absentee ballot because he did not expect to be in Cleveland, his voting residence, today.

His wife, Jane, was to fly to Cleveland today to vote. She said: "I'm going to vote for a gentleman named Lausche."

The governor is unopposed for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator.

Per Capita Food Spending Increases

CLEVELAND (AP)—The percentage of per capita income spent for food has increased since World War II, Ray M. Schmitz, vice president of General Foods, says.

In an address before the annual convention of the Super Market Institute, Schmitz said the increase has been due to the surge of new food products catering to the convenience of housewives, aggressive marketing and retailers who cater to the public.

Methodists Take 10 Major Steps During Conference

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Methodists headed home today after charting some far-reaching, new frontiers for their big denomination.

The church's lawmaking General Conference, held every four years, ended yesterday.

In 13 days of sessions, the delegates took these major steps:

1. Adopted procedures permitting integration of the church's racially segregated administrative structure.

2. Extended full clergy rights to women.

3. Allotted $1 million to set up a School of International Service in Washington, D. C., to train government diplomats and other foreign-service personnel.

4. Approved establishment of two new theological seminaries, one in Ohio and one in the Kansas-Nebraska-Missouri area, and the expansion of 10 others.

5. Set up fund-raising machinery to provide an additional $48 million to strengthen the 116 church-related colleges and universities in the next four years.

6. Embarked on a broad program for stimulating work of local churches in their social and religious influences in their home communities.

7. Strongly condemned liquor as a spreading menace to the health and welfare of America.

8. Gave official sanction to birth control.

9. Upped the church's main missionary budget from 30 to 49 million dollars to advance Christianity at home and abroad.

10. Adopted a resolution opposing any government laws requiring "loyalty oaths" from churches.

On perhaps the most controversial item on the last day's agenda, a move to liberalize the church's regulations on marriages of divorced persons, the conference postponed any action.

The big issue at the conference was the church's segregated jurisdictional system, and after days of debate, delegates agreed almost unanimously on the voluntary procedure for bringing white and Negro churches into the same groupings.

for U. S. senator. He is trying to unseat Sen. George H. Bender, who has no opposition for the Republican nomination.

Trying for the Republican gubernatorial nomination are Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill of Marietta and Lt. Gov. John W. Brown of Medina.

The five Democratic hopefuls in the governor race are Michael V. DiSalle, former Toledo mayor and U. S. price czar; Oscar L. Fleckner, former Springfield city manager and state liquor control director; Mayor Frank X. Kryzan of Youngstown; Robert W. Reider, Port Clinton publisher, and Cleveland Municipal Judge John E. Sweeney, a former Ohio secretary of state.

Democrats today were electing delegates with 58 votes in the national Democratic convention in August. Republicans were electing delegates to represent them with 56 votes at the GOP convention at San Francisco.

LAUSCHE HAS

entered a slate of delegate candidates in the Democratic primary pledged to him as "Ohio's favorite son." That slate is unopposed except in the four congressional districts in Cuyahoga County and in the 16th district made up of Stark, Tuscarawas and Wayne counties.

A full Republican slate nominally pledged to Sen. John W. Bricker as "favorite son" is unopposed. Bricker permitted his name to be used as "favorite son" because Ohio's filing deadline came a full month before President Eisenhower announced his decision to be a candidate.

In addition to the statewide choices, voters also picked congressional candidates for the November election and nominated county candidates. Legislature nominees also were being selected.

College Seniors Cashing In On Industry Needs

Expansion Bringing New Calls For Brains Which Youths Offer

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Expanding plants and growing industries call for a fresh supply of brains and talent. And this year's college seniors are cashing in on it.

Placement officers report that a greater proportion of men and women will be heading for jobs next month than ever before in college history. The starting pay will average higher.

Graduating engineers have been snapped up. Students trained in business administration are being recruited. And even the liberal arts schools are placing more graduates in jobs this year, after trailing during much of the business boom.

The Engineers Joint Council, representing 10 engineering societies, reports that some 5,000 companies have been bidding for the 23,000 seniors being graduated from engineering schools. It finds that the 14,000 graduates from two-year technological institutes are also being sought by industry, along with specially trained high school graduates.

The Northwestern National Life Insurance Co., in its annual survey of placements, noted that "at many engineering schools the recruiting firms have outnumbered the available seniors."

The Pennsylvania State University industrial recruiters are reported to have been contacting juniors and sophomores as well. Many companies are wooing students, and their professors, with summer jobs, expecting them to carry a good word about the firm back to the campus next fall.

The director of placement at Northwestern University estimates that hiring of graduates is up by 30 per cent this year. Starting pay for engineers is up an average $23 a month this year to just under $400, and the nontechnically trained are averaging around $350, while women with scientific training are starting at around $340.

Average costs of recruiting teams indicates that interviewing and hiring a student calls for an outlay of $1000 or more. Industrial personnel directors add that on many jobs it may cost as much as $10,000 to train the fledglings for the more responsible positions.

A Notre Dame placement official is quoted as saying the average graduate had a choice of two jobs this year.

The search for competent recruits for industry and trade has spilled out beyond the engineering classes. The American Institute for Foreign Trade, which operates surprisingly enough in the middle of Arizona at the old wartime Thunderbird Field near Phoenix, reports that 71 companies sent representatives to the school, contacted by mail or wire, or flew men back to the port cities for interviews. One third of the graduating class got jobs in foreign trade early and another third is in the process of choosing.

Leading Red Pole Resigns Position

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Poland's current government purge has reached into the top ranks with the "resignation" of Deputy Premier Jacob Berman, considered by many the country's top Red.

Berman's ouster followed that of six other Cabinet ministers and three top court justices. But none had his influence and prestige.

Moscow radio said Berman, 55, quit as deputy premier and Politburo member of Poland's United Workers Communist party because of his "mistakes."

330 Teachers Play Hookey

IRVINGTON, N. J. (AP)—The public schools closed here yesterday because most of the 330 teachers failed to report to class.

In a demonstration for pay increases, some 90 per cent of the teachers at nine elementary schools and Irvington High School phoned in their regrets.

The teachers had unsuccessfully asked the school board to appropriate money enough to give them a flat $400 increase.

World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press
News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The little man gets pains in his head and dollar signs before his eyes when he hears talk about economics. The economists always seem to be disagreeing about money, inflation, deflation, credit.

And when they disagree most they can sound the most positive. Even when they look into the future, as they are always doing, they don't see the same things. The little man thought the pains in his head might go away if he just studied up a bit.

Then he could be positive too, and even if he was wrong he would feel more comfortable because he could be wrong without having doubts about being right.

He opened a book called "Modern Economics." The first sentence told him: "In these times almost everyone regards himself as something of an economist."

This was wonderful news. From now on no matter what he thought he would always have plenty of company. He thought he had plenty of company already.

He had heard sales of automobiles and farm machinery were falling, that there have been layoffs in both industries but that employment in general has gone up while basic wages are rising.

But it was talk about credit that had been giving him those pains in the head lately.

Last March Rep. Patman (D-Tex.) reflected on the borrowing Americans were doing—they were doing it at a record rate—and seemed to think it was pretty good.

"Credit," Patman said, "is the poor man's capital." And he said "I don't see any harm in it" if consumer credit was twice its present size. But the Board of Governors of the federal reserve system was getting worried about borrowing.

It thought too much of it might push inflation. So it raised the discount rate for its member bankers. This was meant to put a bit of a brake on borrowing because people would have to pay a little higher interest rate on the money they borrowed.

Immediately experts began disagreeing on whether this was good or necessary. President Eisenhower backed the board last week. But two members of his Cabinet had some opinions on the subject—at least, before Eisenhower expressed his.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell said the brake on borrowing "may not have been necessary." He said, "I see no threat of inflation at all." Secretary of Commerce said "money is tight" and he thought making it harder to borrow might be a handicap.

Weeks' Commerce Department, in its most recent report on the economy, painted a pretty picture. It said there were some leveling off from 1955 but the economy is on a high plane.

Its latest figures show: as of March 31 consumer credit was $35,537,000,000 (or 5½ billion dollars higher than last year), installment credit was $27,964,000,000 (up almost five billion), and noninstallment credit was $7,572,000,000 (up more than half a billion).

This report showed just how much people were up to their necks in new automobiles. Auto installment credit was $24,565,000,000, or more than half the nation's total consumer credit of 35½ billion dollars.

Turf Specialist Describes Timely Steps Against Crabgrass

Pickaway County farmers can obtain experienced advice and up-to-date literature on their farming problems at the County Extension Office located in the Post Office Building, S. Court St., Circleville. The office here is the link between district farmers and the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University.

Some of the newer chemicals now on the market will give temporary relief from serious crabgrass problems on Ohio lawns. The assurance comes from Richard R. Davis, turf specialist at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station, Wooster.

There are two general types available. One type is used before crabgrass germinates—about May 1 in this area, earlier in the south and later in the north. The other is intended for use after crabgrass is up and growing.

Post-emergence chemicals—those for applying on crabgrass already growing—include phenyl mercuric acetate, potassium cyanate and disodium methyl arsonate. The latter one is new and has been tried only one year. Following directions is important too, Davis cautions. An overdose can sometimes injure or kill bluegrass. Those labeled as poisons should be handled with care and kept out of reach of children.

Do not expect the same spectacular results that you get with 2,4-D on dandelion, Davis warns. Moreover, you can expect some discoloration of lawn grasses.

Best long-term cure for crabgrass is a dense vigorous sod that will resist invasion of the weed. Davis recommends four steps for cultural control.

1. Fertilize the lawn moderately. 2. Reseed any bare spots larger than 1 square foot. September is the best time to do this, but early Spring will do.

3. Set the mower to cut from one and one-half to two and one-half inches high. This is the most important thing to do in reducing crabgrass.

4. Water with care if at all. Crabgrass likes water. A thorough soaking at weekly or longer intervals is much better for the lawn than frequent light sprinkling.

Where crabgrass is a serious problem, Davis suggests no watering during May, June and July. Do not be alarmed if regular lawn grasses turn brown during dry spells. Green color and renewed growth will start again when rain comes.

Farmers in the upper half of Ohio's farm income bracket received an average net income in 1954 of about $4,000. Yet, they produced 90 percent of all agricultural products sold in Ohio that year.

Robert Schwart, Ohio State University extension economist, cites these figures in a study of 1954 census data and information compiled by the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station and the university.

Assuming gross income reflects the size of farm operation, Schwart says farmers in the top half of the income scale operated 80 acres or more. He notes that 13 percent of those in the upper income bracket produced 50 percent of all agricultural products sold. They did it on farms of 215 acres or more.

If those in the top half of the farm income scale worked 3,000 hours a year, their hourly rate would have been $1.33, Schwart says. At the same time the average factory laborer, working 2,000 hours a year, received an hourly rate of about $1.80.

Many commercial vegetable growers and home gardeners, have learned the value of a small amount of fertilizer applied in water poured around plants at planting time, says C. E. Wittmeyer, Ohio State University extension horticulturist.

Last year, 95 percent of the growers in the Ohio Top Ten Tomato club used a starter fertilizer in the transplanting water. The Top Ten club recognizes growers doing a good job in producing tomatoes for processing.

Several excellent soluble starter fertilizers are on the market, Wittmeyer says. Common analyses include 10-52-17, 10-50-10 and 15-52-9. These should be used according to the manufacturers' directions. Usually this is about 3 pounds per 50 gallons of water or 1 ounce per gallon.

At planting time, ½ pint of the solution may be poured around the plant, after which soil should be pulled in to fill the planting hole, Wittmeyer explains.

The starter fertilizer frequently will result in sizable yield increases, a better stand of plants, and more uniformity at maturity. Starter fertilizers may be used with nearly all vegetable plants, such as peppers, tomatoes, cabbage, eggplant and broccoli.

In case the completely soluble fertilizers are not available, the horticulturist explains, satisfactory substitute is a complete fertilizer such as 4-16-8, 4-12-8, or similar analysis, high in phosphorus. Wittmeyer advises using 10 pounds of the material to 50 gallons of water, or about 3-4 ounces per gallon. This is equivalent to about one cup per 10-quart bucket.

The fertilizer should be dissolved by stirring several times. The dissolved residue remaining in the bottom of the bucket usually is conditioner or lime used in the fertilizer. It can be spread over the garden area.

The starter fertilizer is not a substitute for regular fertilizer programs, Wittmeyer points out.

School Teacher Goes By Horseback

MANCHESTER, Ky. (AP)—Miss Irma Gall, a school teacher, rode her horse to and from classes each day in a remote section of mountainous Clay County.

And she learned to like the olden mode of transportation so well that today she is on a horseback trip to her home in Syracuse, Ind.

Before leaving Monday she said she expected the trip to require two weeks.

She said she would return to her work in August but that her horse, Bob, would be vanned back. "It's just too hot to ride him from Indiana in August," she said.

Electronic Brain To Test Engines

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A huge electronic brain is being assembled for use in the design of advanced jet engines.

Beckman Instruments, Inc., is building the computer at Berkeley, Calif., for the Allison Division of General Motors in Indianapolis. It will be completed in July. With it, designers can picture an engine in action under varying conditions before it is built. Problems that ordinarily would require several years of man hours to solve can be worked out in a matter of a few weeks with the computer's superior brain, the builder says.

IN A REPORT presented to the House armed services committee by the corps commandant, Gen. Randolph McC. Pate, the Marine Corps disclosed that a night march which cost the lives of six recruits at Parris Island, S. C., April 8, was ordered by Staff Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon (above), 31, while he was "under the influence of alcohol." McKeon is being court martialed. (International)

Briscoe Assigned To Europe Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House has announced the selection of Vice Adm. Robert P. Briscoe to be commander-in-chief of Allied forces in Southern Europe, succeeding Adm. William M. Fechteler who will retire.

Briscoe now is deputy chief of naval operations in charge of fleet operations and readiness.

The announcement of selection of Briscoe to succeed Fechteler came as Eisenhower asked the Senate to promote Briscoe to the rank of full admiral while serving in the new assignment.

Only one-tenth of the population of the Hawaiian islands are Hawaiian.

Bricker, Bender Urging OK Of Funds For Dillon Dam

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio Republican Sens. Bricker and Bender have urged Congress to supply $2,600,000 to renew work on Dillon Dam on the Licking River above Zanesville, Ohio.

Nine million dollars, said Bricker, have been spent on this long standing project and the delay in finishing it results in an "unjustifiable and unexplainable waste of the federal government's investment."

Said Bender: "So long as this unsatisfactory situation continues, the flood peril to the Muskingum Valley persists... so long as Dillon remains uncompleted, a huge hole in (A) gigantic network of dikes will exist through which flood waters may pour to ravage the property of the Muskingum Valley."

The senators expressed their views in testimony prepared for the Senate appropriations subcommittee on public works. They asked the committee to recommend that the Senate approved the Dillon appropriation.

President Eisenhower asked Congress for two million dollars to resume work on Dillon in 1955. After Congress refused, he didn't include the item in this year's budget.

"The project," said Bricker, "has been justified several times to Congress as part of the flood control plan for the Ohio River Basin. Moreover, it is also very important to the residents of the Muskingum Valley...

"The delay in securing adequate flood protection retards development and lowers the land values downstream and results in unsettled and uncertain conditions for the residents in the reservoir basin."

A few weeks ago, the congressman whose district partly includes that basin, Rep. McGregor (R-Ohio) told a House appropriations subcommittee his district doesn't want Dillon finished. He said the benefit to cost ratio is too low to make it worth while.

Bricker said: "There was some flood in the City of Zanesville in 1945 and again in 1952." The Army Engineers estimate this flood caused over ½ million dollars damage in the Muskingum Valley. The 14 existing reservoirs prevented some $706,000 additional damage in that flood.

The one dam that has not been completed, Dillon, would have prevented more than $200,000 damages.

These figures, Bricker asserted, are based on 1952 prices, so a recurrence of a similar flood "would cause substantially greater damage."

Bricker also contended that the administration's budget asks for 306 million dollars for flood con-

DeWitt Clinton Faces Shrinkage

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service is going to shrink DeWitt Clinton's picture a fraction of an inch, saving the taxpayers an estimated $250,000 a year.

A picture of Clinton graces the revenue stamp on every cigarette package. They cost the revenue service about $1¼ million a year.

Beginning in June, the service will cut down the width of the stamp, including Clinton's picture, by three sixteenths of an inch.

It's Bigger than Both of 'em

—but its price makes it one of America's 3 best sellers!

It's as simple as this:

Only two cars in all creation outsell Buick. And they are two of the well-known smaller cars.

So maybe it will pay you to ask how come Buick has zoomed to the No. 3 spot with such fast-selling company.

Well, one answer is the beautiful and brawny Buick SPECIAL you see pictured here—and the low price it carries.

It's the biggest bundle of high-powered performance and high-fashion luxury ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.

And that means more people want it and can afford it, because it's priced only a few dollars more than its two smaller-car rivals—even less than some models of those very same cars.

But the big answer comes from a sure fact more folks have discovered: you get more pure automobile for your money in Buick than you get elsewhere.

Here, you get the extra wallop of big new Buick power raised to a new high—and pouring in smooth whisper from a brand-new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine of true high compression.

Here, you get the matchless buoyancy of Buick's great new ride—the extra-safe feeling of Buick's new handling ease—the extra stretch-out comfort of Buick roominess—the extra solidity and strength of

Buick structure—the extra pride and prestige of Buick's new styling and dash.

Here, too—and nowhere else—you can get the silk-smooth performance and flash-fast response of Buick's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo®—the world's only transmission with the gas-saving mileage and switch-pitch action of the modern airplane propeller.

This week—this very day, if you wish—you can sample all these Buick blessings to your heart's content and your pocket's joy. Why not drop in on us and do just that?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Design For Airpower

(Editor's Note: This column is furnished as a public service, by the Office of Information Services, Air Research and Development Command, U. S. Air Force.)

Bird With A Kick
The Air Force's falcon missile has much in common with the noble bird used in the medieval sport of falconry. Swift and deadly, it preys on enemy planes instead of game birds.

Carried on interceptor aircraft, the robot falcon has also a mechanical brain that helps it pursue a hostile bomber until a hit and kill are scored. Its small weight and size permit an interceptor to carry several of these missiles under the wings or in pods.

Technically known as a "guided aircraft rocket," the Hughes Falcon can be launched effectively against the biggest airplanes. Being mechanical, it is not easily scared.

Sky Signposts

The old gag about signposts on clouds may come true with the advent of Navaho, a new Air Force system for automatically giving airplanes their exact position.

Under development at ARDC's Rome Air Development Center, Navaho means "Navigation and Radio Homing"—requires a special receiver in the airplane and a ground station.

A recently built experimental ground station, with three 625-foot towers, can cover 12 million square miles. In actual operation, ground stations will operate the clock and provide continuous position information to an unlimited number of airplanes over a 2,000-mile range.

An electronic device in the airplane does the figuring. The pilot merely has to look at a dial which tells him in what direction and how far the next ground station is.

When completed, Navaho will be a boon to both military planes and airliners, especially when flying over oceans which, so far, have no signposts either.

Blowing Hot And Cold

At 40,000 feet, the average temperature is 67 degrees below zero. But this doesn't help the jet streaking at twice the speed of sound. For at that speed, even thin air creates enough heat through friction to raise the plane's skin temperature up to 250 degrees!

When planes will be flying at four times the speed of sound, temperatures might rise as much as 1150 degrees. Superplanes of the future, swishing through the air six times as fast as sound, might heat up 2400 degrees—no matter how cold the outside air.

Meteors flashing down to earth burn up when they enter the atmosphere. Planes would crack or even melt at much lower speeds, because there are as yet no suitable metals for manned airplanes which can withstand the heating at 3000 miles-an-hour and up.

First to succumb to the rising heat would be the pilot and sensitive instruments. One hundred sixty degrees inside the plane is about tops for both. Even at "only" twice the speed of sound, a fighter must carry enough air conditioning equipment to take care of a fair-sized building.

Some people call the heating problem the "thermal barrier." Actually, it is not a barrier but a scientific thicket that becomes more entangled the deeper it is penetrated. Chances are that our scientists will manage to fight their way deep into this thicket because, so far, no barrier or thicket has ever stopped them for long.

Facts And Figures

World airlines have standardized identification of dangerous cargoes: explosives are pictured as a bursting bomb; poison—skull and crossbones; radioactive materials—clouds emitting jagged rays.

The new Boeing Intercontinental 707 jet transport can circle the globe in less than 40 hours.

Three air bases for joint Spanish-U.S. use are being built near Seville, Spain.

Air Force planes fly about ten million hours a year.

It took 18 personnel to maintain one F-86 interceptor during the Korean War. It now takes 206 people to maintain one F-102, our latest interceptor.

St. Louis Area Sees Huge Balloon

ST. LOUIS (AP)—That round object which glowed about 90,000 feet above St. Louis for 2½ hours Monday night was just a weather balloon.

The Weather Bureau and jet pilots, who went up for a closer look, confirmed it.

The glowing ball turned a ruddy crimson and disappeared about 7:20 p.m. (CST).

At least two jet pilots from the Air National Guard at Springfield, Ill., went up to look at the mysterious object.

Despite Tax Hike, Cigarette Use Up

COLUMBUS (AP)—Despite a penny a pack tax increase, Ohioans smoked more cigarettes in April than in the same month last year, State Tax Commission Stanley J. Bowers reports.

Bowers said cigarette tax collections last month totaled $2,506,770.63, an increase of $905,360.34 over April 1955. Adjusted for the cent increase, revenues were approximately $70,000 more.

Tax collections on 3.2 beer dropped 7.64 per cent, were up 20 per cent on malt beverages and up 9.44 per cent on wine.

THE RULE OF TABOO

THIS COMPLEX civilization and heralded culture occasionally must stagger under man's admission that the howling savage at times solved his problems with greater ease. Savages were ruled by the taboo and the law of the taboo was not to be violated.

Modern human beings are creatures in a culture that never has learned how to impress its members with "musts" and "must not's."

Children refer to teachers as "sour pussies," "old goats" and "heels, without a word of admonition from their parents. Too many are sent to school with orders to go because they have to go, and without explanation that school is maintained for the child's benefit.

Children are permitted to be cop-haters, with parents neglecting to explain that police have a place in the scheme of modern life. Few parents bother to explain destruction of public property comes out of the family purse—through taxes.

Borrowing again from the savage, it must be remembered that one thing he hated was cowardice. Not one of the young vandals who frequently run afoul of the law by destroying public or private property probably has ever been told that such an act is the act of a coward. They think it is an act of boldness because they have never been told differently.

DIE IS CAST

THIS COUNTRY'S dramatic proffer of 220 pounds of fissionable materials to activate atomic reactors around the world was a telling answer to Russia's carping attempts to keep the "atoms for peace" proposal from materializing. It is a bold proposition which if followed through to fruition promises to lift man to greater material heights than he has ever known.

In UN discussions of an international atomic agency, Soviet Delegate Vishinsky has sought to poison the minds of the smaller nations with respect to U. S. intentions, suggesting it was a propaganda move subject to repudiation. A peaceful atomic program which promises a better life is the last thing in the world desired by the communists who prey on poverty and ignorance. But there seems to be hope that the die to a better world has been cast.

By this single stroke the U. S. gave the atoms for peace plan so much momentum that Russia has little alternative than to at least pretend to go along, however reluctantly.

WALL STREET "HICKS"

AMERICANS who reside in what Gothamites consider the "hinterland" can feel superior to those Wall Street apple knockers clutching peddled gold bricks and shouting for the scalp of Joseph Bardach.

A 65-year-old customers man Bardach showed a change of pace. He shunned the traditional haunts of the confidence man, those milk train stops where the fine print of mining stock is not decipherable under the oil lamps. Instead, he picked up $200,000, part of it by sale of stocks in non-existent companies, right down where they publish those brochures about being wary of get-rich-quick schemes for reading by rural dolt.

Maybe it's the inferiority complex in most people that makes the financial

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

From Peking comes the following item: "... If the United States withdrew its offer of aid, that was the price Ceylon would cheerfully pay to maintain her independence, stated the Ceylon 'Morning Times' on April 11. 'After all, we have survived without American aid all these years, and our self respect cannot be bought with dollars,' it added.

"The paper stated: 'If any country in the world offers Ceylon aid without strings she will gladly and gratefully accept as Nehru's India has done, but she cannot be bought, sold or bartered.' The paper asserted that 'Ceylon is flattered by the world's interest in her freedom and safety but she will decide for herself along which path her security lies and will act accordingly without bowing to bribes or threats.'"

In contrast, the Mongolian Home Service broadcasted in Russian:

"In response to the ever-increasing assistance of the Soviet Union, the workers of the Mongolian People's Republic express their sincere and heartfelt gratitude to the fraternal Soviet People and its vanguard, the Communist Party of the Soviet Union and the Soviet Government, and are full of determination to achieve even greater successes in Socialist construction under the leadership of their beloved People's Revolutionary Party."

More and more countries are responding to American aid as the Ceylon newspaper does, namely, that in some manner when a country accepts American aid it is doing the United States some kind of a favor. This is due to several reasons: faulty salesmanship by our almoners, Paul G. Hoffman and Harold Stassen; Soviet propaganda to the effect that the United States had to give aid in order to maintain full employment; and finally our constant tendency to appease nations whose tone and manner are impudent. Impudence has become a weapon of diplomacy aimed at the United States; it is never employed against Soviet Russia.

It would be interesting to know how much Soviet Russia has given outright. It is probably very little because whenever the nature of a transaction is available, a barter of some kind is indicated, or a loan agreement is announced. With capitalistic wisdom, Russia gives little or nothing away without some kind of compensation.

But the United States has based its give-away programs upon a doctrine of sheer charity; it has been a good-will offering, a sharing. As that sort of action is not understood by most countries of this world, it has been regarded with suspicion, and the suspicion has increased as the amounts of gold dollars have continued to pour into governments.

Why should not strings be attached to any aid we give any country? Ceylon is an excellent example. This country had a right to assume that as long as Sir John Kotelawala was the Prime Minister, the government of Ceylon would not be antagonistic to the United States. Such an assumption is not possible today because the new government is at best neutral. It is a government which is under the influence of Nehru of India.

Because of this change in Administration in Ceylon, it is likely that the economic relations between that country and Soviet Russia will come closer. Ceylon is a great tea-growing country and Soviet Russia and its satellites are great tea-consuming countries. There is room therefore for important barter arrangements between Ceylon and Soviet Russia.

Success Exacts A Price

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—George Gobel, who makes a nation laugh, says this is the price he has paid for fame:

"I used to go to the movie near my home and put a dime in the popcorn machine. If I didn't get my popcorn, I'd shake the machine until the popcorn did come out. A neighborhood cop showed me how to do it.

"But now if I put in a dime and don't get my popcorn I'm not supposed to shake the machine. I'm just supposed to put in another dime."

There is more than a little truth in this wry fable. Gobel, who often calls himself "Lonesome George" on his television program, often does feel a bit lonesome. He is still a bit surprised, he still feels a bit uneasy, at being regarded as a celebrity.

George isn't the overnight sensation many people think him to be. He came up the hard slow way before achieving the rank of a top comedian.

George, whose dad ran a general store in Chicago, was a schoolboy soprano in a church choir when he was asked to sing at a wedding. He sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden," and afterward someone handed him an envelope containing $2.

"I thought to myself, 'Boy, how long has this been going on?'" George recalled. "I turned up right then."

He and his guitar soon became fixtures on Midwest radio barn dance radio shows.

During the war Gobel, already a pilot, trained combat fliers in the old B26. It was while entertaining at Army shows that George began to emerge as a comedian. He worked up to star billing on the night club circuit.

"I never was real overconfident about what I could do or where I could go in this business," he said. "I felt that way then and I feel that way now. I just keep plugging."

Then television "discovered" him. "Little Buddy" likes being at the peak of his trade, but is less than overwhelmed by it.

"With all the satisfaction that goes with it," he said soberly, "it's not quite what it's cracked up to be."

"You don't have as much real freedom. It's not quite like it was. You can't do what you want. You can't always go where you want to. You don't get to see who you want to."

Unlike some TV celebrities, he has never rushed into print with reports of his multi-million-dollar earnings.

"The main reason I don't like to talk about what I make," he said, grinning, "is that my wife, Alice, will ask, 'Well, where is it?'"

DIET AND HEALTH

Planning Low Salt Diet

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

LOW salt diets usually mean a mighty confusing time for you, patients who have to abide by them. But it's even worse for the homemaker who has to prepare the meals.

As a rule, the doctor will tell a patient with a heart or kidney disease that he must not eat "salty things." He will probably give him a printed list of low sodium foods and the patient soon discovers for himself what foods can and cannot be eaten.

Endless Search

That means an endless search of the supermarkets or the corner grocery examining each label in an effort to determine the salt content.

Fortunately, the National Research Council has prepared an accurate sodium count of various foods you are likely to use in your daily menus. Your doctor can best tell you how much salt you can use.

Low sodium foods include: Chicken, light meat, fresh milk, maple syrup, rice, corn, shredded wheat and puffed rice.

Foods with moderate sodium content include: Enriched white bread, mayonnaise, canned green beans, canned vegetable soup, potato chips, flavored gelatin, rice flakes and corn flakes.

High sodium foods include: Fried crisp bacon, green olives, fry crackers, bologna sausage, frankfurters, margarine, wheat flakes and bran flakes.

As a group, cheeses would be classified in the high sodium category, although types of cheese vary in sodium content.

For instance—Processed cheese, 1,500 mg.; cheddar, 700 mg.; Gruyere, 540 mg.; cottage, 290 mg. and cream, 110 mg.

Most beverages are fairly low in sodium. Sodium content per 100 cubic centimeters for the following is: Sauterne wine, 10 mg.; beer, 8 mg.; root beer, 8 mg.; ginger ale, 3 mg.; brandy, 3 mg.; cola beverages, 2 mg.; gin, 0.7 mg., and blended whiskey, 0.7 mg.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Miss M. B.: What is the cause of my profuse perspiration on drinking a warm drink?

Answer: The taking of any warm beverage may cause a perspiration to perspire, due to the effect of the warm drink on the nervous mechanism.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

The Ohio Legislature earmarked $160,000 for Memorial Lake, to be built at "Devil's Backbone" in Washington Township.

Six Circleville organizations studied the possibility of forming a "United Youth Council."

Circleville voters failed to pass the proposed $387,000 school bond issue by only 18 votes, while Deer Creek Township voters approved a $50,000 issue.

City councilmen ordered a survey to be made of the community's sewer needs.

Harold J. Bowers was re-elected superintendent of Deercreek Township High School.

An ordinance calling for an extension of the sewer system out on Lancaster Pike within the city limits was turned down by council.

"My trouble," confessed the other, "is hitting the old bed."

During a tour of America, the distinguished Irish wit, orator, and parliamentarian, T. P. O'Connor—fondly known as "Tay Pay"—to his constituents—was asked repeatedly, "What is the state of Ireland today?"

"Status quo," Tay Pay would reply cheerily. "In the south of Ireland we have the Catholics, and in the north the Protestants, and they're at each others' throats as usual all the time...."

CHAPTER 16

VAL WAS walking briskly past the officers' quarters when she found herself face to face with Dirk. He had been sauntering along in his casual way when he saw Val coming toward him. He stopped, as she did.

"Hello, Val," he said easily. "Come and lean over the railing and have a chat."

"No, thank you. I've come up on deck to walk. I need the exercise."

"I see I'm in the dog house," he said, grinning. "Look here, have a cigarette and let's find out what's the matter. You're not, are you?"

"You're not, are you?" he raised one eyebrow slightly, "still angry about last night?"

"It isn't pleasant to be mixed up in a brawl," she said, and turned deliberately away from him.

"You seriously think I was drunk, Val?"

She was still looking steadily out to sea. "You said you were, and what other excuse could there be for your behavior?"

"But you know I wasn't drunk, Val." His hand was grasping her arm tightly as though demanding an answer.

She hesitated. "At least you weren't drunk the last time you danced with me and that was only two dances before that wretched scene." She added with a sharp break in her voice. "Then if you weren't drunk, why did you do it?"

"Do you think I'd allow any man to call me a swine and get away with it?" He gave her a curious glance and added, "Or perhaps you think that wasn't sufficient provocation?"

"I agree he shouldn't have said what he did. I suppose he can never forgive you for what happened in the past."

"Frankly, I don't think last night had anything to do with the past," he said abruptly. "You're not very conceited, are you?"

She swung toward him and said angrily, "Oh, yes I am, normally conceited. But it is difficult to stretch one's conceit to a point to believe that two men should suddenly start fighting in the middle of a dance floor over a girl they'd known the short time you and I were together."

She looked at him thoughtfully.

Bruce have known me. I may have been the obvious cause of the row, but if there hadn't been a strong antagonism between the two that had its roots in the past, it wouldn't have happened."

"I can see you're on his side. He's captured your fancy in the same way he did Eileen's."

"But he didn't knock you down."

"No." Suddenly he grinned. "Do you know, it gave me quite a kick to think I could knock him flat! He's so much heavier than I am. I suppose I shouldn't have been able to do it if I hadn't been so darned mad."

"And he wasn't expecting you to hit him either," she reminded him.

"No." His thin face sobered. "But he had it coming to him. It's been coming to him for quite a long while. There's no reason why he should be rude to me—on the contrary."

"You think he should be pleasant about the fact that you stole his girl away from him?"

"That isn't quite the truth, Val."

She glanced up at him in a startled way. "What do you mean by that?"

"Nothing I can tell you at present. And," he added, speaking more vehemently, "I find this subject, shall we? let's drop this subject. Let's talk about something much more interesting."

"Such as?"

He laughed again and when next he spoke it was in his usual pleasant, easygoing voice. "Why not talk about your eyes and how very blue they are this morning? As blue as that sparkling sea, I swear."

Val laughed too. She found it impossible to be angry with him for long. "Naturally I don't mind," she said aloud. "No one really minds compliments."

"Good," he agreed soberly. "I think at heart we're all uncertain of ourselves—we don't even know where we're going. I know I haven't the ghost of an idea where I'm going. But I suppose that denotes a weak character?"

She looked at him thoughtfully.

Convention Delegates Give Reports To Monday Club

Mrs. Ray Davis Honored At Meet

Highlight of last evening's meeting of the Monday Club was reports of delegate who attended the 59th annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs in Columbus.

Mrs. Collis Young, president, presided for a short business session. Mrs. Ray Davis, newly installed president of the Ohio Federation, briefly reported some events of the convention, which she said was the largest Federation meeting ever held in Ohio with 1,100 women present.

Mrs. Davis expressed her gratitude to the Monday Club for her club background and the gift of an antique water pitcher presented to her in honor of her office. She also thanked the Southeast district for their gift, which was an 1870 planter.

Mrs. Milton Patterson reported on the meetings she attended as a delegate from the Monday Club. She said that Mayor M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner welcomed the women to Columbus.

A panel discussed "Ohio Federation Projects" was followed by the Circleville High School sextette presenting musical selections, under the direction of Mr. Truman Underly and accompanied on the piano by Barbara Samuel.

During the afternoon the eight presidents from the districts reported for each district. The Southeast district, in which Circleville is located, was awarded a banner in recognition of more newly formed clubs than any other district.

Miss Donna Mitchell sang the invocation for the night session.

A trophy, presented to the Federation in honor of Mrs. Elizabeth B. Smith who is past president of the Federation, will be presented each year to the club with the best publicity.

Mrs. Clarence Goldthorpe, treasurer of the General Federation, spoke on the policy and progress of women. She pointed out things which women helped bring about, such as the Pure Food Acts, industrial homes for women, juvenile courts, an eight hour day and the Federal Child Labor Law.

Mrs. Mary Lou Pfeiffer spoke on "4-H After Forty." She listed harmony, happiness, humility and health as being important.

To conclude her report Mrs. Patterson told that the Rev. Dr. Eugene Beach of First Christian Church in Youngstown gave a talk entitled, "Life's Great Adventure."

Mrs. Howard Newell Stevenson also served as a delegate and reported the following: A panel on "Pursuit of Learning" by the education department. To highlight their discussion they told that if eight rooms were added every day to the school system in 10 years there would be enough room in public schools.

During the afternoon Mrs. Stevenson attended the symposium, "Progress in Medicine". The different phases were: public and mental health, cancer and heart disease.

They told that science now has a drug which will arrest rheumatic heart condition.

They told that 24 million dollars was spent in research for cancer last year and more money is needed.

During the evening she attended the banquet, which featured the installation of Mrs. Davis.

Mrs. Martin Cromley of the Monday Club served as chairman of the hostesses and Mrs. Ralph Hosler

Civil War Tale Is Winner Of Pulitzer Prize

Husband-Wife Team Also Honored For Year's Best Drama

NEW YORK (AP)—Pulitzer Prizes have been bestowed on MacKinlay Kantor for his Civil War novel "Andersonville" and on a husband-wife playwrighting team for their Broadway hit, "The Diary of Anne Frank."

The 1936 Pulitzer awards in journalism, literature and music were announced Monday by the trustees of Columbia University. Kantor's novel, the story of the horrors of a Confederate prison camp, won the Pulitzer Prize for fiction.

In Paris Monday night Kantor expressed great satisfaction. "After 30 books," he said, "a writer can hardly be blamed for hankering after something like this."

The author is vacationing in Europe with his family. Albert Hackett and Frances Goodrich won the drama award for their stage adaptation of the diary of a 13-year-old Jewish girl who died in a Nazi concentration camp in World War II.

The annual Pulitzer Prizes are awarded by the Columbia trustees under the will of the late Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of the old New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. The first prizes were made in 1917.

None of this year's winners had won a Pulitzer Prize before.

The Watsonville (Calif.) Register-Pajaronian was named winner of the public service award in journalism. The newspaper, with a circulation of 7,800 carried on a crusade that led to the resignation of a district attorney and the conviction of one of his associates.

At Watsonville, Editor Frank Orr commented: "I am very humble that a newspaper of our small size, way off in a far corner of the United States, was chosen for such an honor. I can say on behalf of our staff — that this was a joint staff effort — that we are very happy."

The international reporting award went to a roving three-man team from the Hearst newspapers. The team was headed by Editor in Chief William Randolph Hearst Jr.

Cited with Hearst for exclusive interviews with Soviet leaders were Kingsbury Smith, vice president and general manager of International News Service, and Frank Conniff, editorial assistant to Hearst.

Other journalist winners: Local reporting (under stress of an edition deadline) — Lee Hills, executive editor of the Detroit Free Press, for his coverage of the United Auto Workers' negotiations for supplemental employment pay.

Local reporting (no edition deadline)—Arthur Daley of the New York Times for his coverage of sports in his column "Sports of the Times."

National reporting — Charles L. Bartlett of the Chattanooga (Tenn.) Times, for his series exposing a conflict of interests that led to the resignation of Harold E. Talbot as secretary of the Air Force.

Editorials — Lauren K. Soth of the Des Moines Register and Tribune for his editorial invitation that led to the visit of a Russian farm delegation to Iowa.

Cartooning — Robert York of the Louisville, (Ky.) Times for "Achilles," his depiction of the weak heel of farm prices upon which the bulging figure of American prosperity rested.

Photography — The New York Daily News for consistently excellent news picture coverage. An outstanding example cited was George Mattson's air view of a bomber crash in the street of a Long Island, N.Y., community. Twenty-five other Daily News photographers were also named in the citation.

The winning newspaper receives

RUSSIA DOES have more modern heavy bombers and is turning out faster than the U.S. Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson tells reporters in Washington, but he refuses to go along with statement of Gen. Curtis LeMay, Strategic Air commander, that in two to four years Russia will have superior long range striking power under present projected plans of both nations. He said LeMay is a "dedicated specialist" who is commendably zealous about "his part of the business." (International)

2 U.S. Navy Ships Damaged In Mishap

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The battleship Wisconsin and the escort destroyer Eaton, heavily damaged when they collided off the Virginia Capes Sunday, have arrived here for extensive repairs.

The 45,000-ton Wisconsin, with 30 feet of her bow smashed, reached port Monday under her own power. The 2,100-ton Eaton, with a 30-foot gash in her starboard side from main deck to waterline, had to be towed in stern first by the fleet tug Utina for drydocking.

No injuries were reported in the collision.

Fire Department Chalks Up Record

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Probably the fastest fire alarm on record here was turned in Monday night.

A lightning bolt from a local thunderstorm knocked out a fire alarm box and set off the signal. Firemen said the nice part about the incident was that the fire was cut before the alarm had finished sounding.

Sea Elephant Is Given Mate

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis zoo's biggest romance is in the making.

A candidate for affections of the two-ton sea elephant, Moby Dick, has arrived by air from California. The 500-pound mate was termed a regular beauty in sea elephant circles Monday by zoo Director George P. Vierheller.

A golden plaque. Individual winning journalists get $1,000 each. Awards in letters and music are $500 each.

Other winners included: History — "The Age of Reform," Richard Hofstadter's study of the passion for progress and reform from 1890 to 1940.

Biography — "Benjamin Henry Latrobe," a full length biography by Talbot Hamlin of America's first professional architect.

Poetry — Elizabeth Bishop's collection of poems, "North and South — a Cold Spring."

Music — Ernest Toch, self-taught Viennese composer, for his "Symphony No. 3". He is now a U.S. citizen.

A $1,500 traveling scholarship in art went to Mrs. Carol Maringer Benson of Cleveland, Ohio.

Numerous Ohio Candidates Just Taking Free Ride Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Twelve candidates for statewide office and 32 candidates for Congress took a "free ride" in today's primary elections. They had no opposition and won nomination automatically.

Twelve of Ohio's 17 incumbent Republican congressmen lacked primary opposition. Four had opposition and one—Oliver P. Bolton of the 11th District—was not a candidate for re-election.

None of Ohio's six Democrats in the House was opposed for re-nomination.

Both GOP and Democratic candidates for the U. S. Senate were without opposition — Sen. George H. Bender, the incumbent, and his Democratic challenger, Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

To Republican Secretary of State Ted W. Brown and his Democratic opponent in November, Hubert Lynch of Brooklyn, also the primaries were a formality.

The same was true for State Auditor James A. Rhodes and Democrat Joseph T. Ferguson who is trying to win back the office Rhodes won from him in 1932.

Roger W. Tracy, three-term state treasurer, had no opposition for renomination on the GOP ticket, but there was a contest on the Democratic side.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant was unchallenged within his party for a fifth six-year term and his Republican opponent next November, Willard D. Campbell of Cambridge, also had a clear path in the primary.

No opposition developed for either party's candidate for the Supreme Court nomination for the term beginning Jan. 1. Republican Judge John M. Matthias will be opposed in November by Democrat Merrill D. Brothers of Columbus.

Evan P. Ford of Columbus, a Democrat, won without a fight the

Sokolsky's These Days

There are no available reports on what has happened to China's important tea trade. By 1927, the Central China tea trade, centering in Hankow, had so deteriorated that it had lost its economic significance. Prior to the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917, Russia was the principal importer of tea from Hankow, much of it being carried in caravans across Mongolia to the Trans-Siberian Railroad. The British preferred Indian tea which includes Ceylon tea.

The Japanese used Fukien and Formosan teas and exported quantities to all parts of the world, a large market developing in North Africa. The United States took to coffee, which is another story.

If the tea groves in China have not been properly cared for during the past years, it is understandable that Ceylon would want to take advantage of both the Russian and Chinese markets and could make a good trade with these countries. Tea, like rice, can be politics in Asia. And the movement of the tea crop is more valuable both economically and politically than getting gold dollar credits for nothing.

Gas Hike Sought

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio Fuel Gas Co., citing spiralling costs, has filed with Columbus officials a request for a 14.8 per cent hike in the city's natural gas rates.

Grain 'Fixing' Accusation Filed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has issued a formal complaint accusing the Continental Grain Co. of Chicago with "manipulation" of the price of wheat on the Kansas City Board of Trade.

The complaint said that transactions of the concern on this futures contract on Jan. 26 and Nov. 30 last year in connection with export sales violated provisions of the Commodity Exchange Act. This act declares price manipulation to be unlawful.

The grain company was given 20 days in which to file an answer in preparation for a hearing set for June 6 at Kansas City.

New Tollroad Data Study Completed

COLUMBUS (AP)—State Highway Director S. O. Linnell has completed his study of two engineering reports on a proposed second turnpike in Ohio but refuses comment as to whether the reports show the turnpike to be financially feasible. Linnell said the reports, prepared by J. E. Greiner Co., and Coverdale and Colpitts, make no recommendations.

Last Friday, the highway department said the reports indicated a Conneaut to Cincinnati turnpike could cost Ohio nearly $36 million.

New Bill Seen Aid To Veterans' Kin

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House passed a bill to raise by $600 the amount of income a widow or a child of a veteran may have in the year in which the veteran dies and still be eligible for Veterans Administration payments.

Under present law a child cannot get the VA pension if his income is more than $1,400 a year. The widow's income limitations are $1,400 if she has no minor children and $2,700 if she has children. The bill, now goes to the Senate.

"Mary Hawthorth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband and I are a young couple in our late twenties, and about a year ago we adopted the most precious baby in the world—then two months old. We wanted a baby so badly; and since four had been lost us, you can imagine how much it means to us to have this little one.

My reason for writing is my concern for the baby's natural mother. We don't know here, of course, only that she was a very young girl. I think of her so much, especially on holidays, the baby's birthday, etc. I cry myself to sleep thinking of her, and wondering if she is longing for her baby.

I know it is impossible, but I wish I could tell her how happy and healthy her little daughter is; and how very much she is loved. We thank God each day for entrusting such a sweet child to our care.

What can I do to get over this feeling for the baby's mother? She must be a lovely girl, her baby is so sweet.

G. R.

DEAR G. R.: It could be that your grief for the baby's mother is a little morbid, and that it is a projection of disguised self-pity.

In having lost four babies of your own, naturally you became deeply familiar with the bleak sorrow of such deprivation. And now that you have a beloved adopted child to care for, perhaps the routine of the mothering experience, and the child's sweet responses, keep you mindful of the earlier sorrows—wondering what your vanished children would have been like, had they lived to this age.

And at this point in your unconscious conjecturing, perhaps a tide of personal heartache wells up, that you convert, as it were, into

MAKE A BEACH BACKREST

A folding, adjustable backrest for beach or lawn use is made of lumber 3/4-inch thick. Make two 20-by-24-inch frames, using lumber 2 inches wide. The longer sides of the base frame are double thickness, the inner boards notched for backrest adjustment. Fasten all frame joints with glue and 6-penny finishing nails. The backrest boards extend 8 inches top and bottom. Props are 3/4 by 2 by 14 inches. Bore 1-inch dowel holes 1 inch from the end of each prop. Insert an 18 1/2-inch piece of 1-inch dowel in the lower holes, allowing it to extend 3/4 inch beyond the props. Pin the dowels in place with 4-penny finishing nails. Bore dowel holes 14 inches from the top of the backrest frame. Insert a 20-inch piece of dowel through the frame and props, pinning it to the frame, but allowing the props to swing. The canvas seat is fastened with upholstery tacks to the lower edge of the back boards.

LIFE AND DEATH story was written at the Vallejo, Calif., Speedway as Driver George Amick came out of this stock car accident alive but another driver, Walt Faulkner, in a similar accident, lost his life. Amick, held in his car with a safety harness, survived with painful injuries. Faulkner was thrown out of his stock car and was crushed to death. The Amick crash is seen in these Magic Eye photos. Big Question: Can Redlegs Stay On Top?

CINCINNATI (P)—The Cincinnati Redlegs climbed the National League ladder in a hurry last week. Will they stay there?

The New York Giants turn in here today for a two game series with the Redlegs under the lights that may supply the answer.

Manager Bobby Bragan of the Pittsburgh Pirates thinks the Reds have "more all-around class than any club we've faced so far this season, and we've played them all with the exception of the Cubs and Braves."

Bragan, after the Pirates lost to the Reds in 10 innings Saturday, said, "with Mr. Muscles (Ted Kluszewski) back in the lineup no club in our league or no club in baseball, for that matter, can match them in power."

"And that kid (Frank) Robinson looks like another Willie Mays to me. He's easily the best-looking rookie I've seen this spring."

The home run is one of the big factors in boosting the Redlegs to second place. The Redlegs have 37 so far in 18 games.

If this rate were continued, the Reds would finish the season with more than 300 round-trip blows, roughly 100 more than any team in history.

The Redlegs put their hopes tonight on the arm of righthander Art Fowler, while the Giants nominated Jim Hearn, another righthander, in opposition.

Archer Warns Against Lax Soil Planning

Don Archer of the Soil Conservation Service for this district warned today that mere "lip service" and empty planning will not be enough to save the natural resources of the land.

His warning was in connection with the current Soil Stewardship Week, an annual faith and proper care of the nation's farm soil. In addition this year, Archer stressed that the observance also seeks to reduce accidents on the farm.

Many churches in the district gave special recognition to Soil Stewardship Week when the observance opened Sunday.

Archer said:

"We're inclined to give lip service to such things as soil conservation and the wise use of our natural resources. But in Pickaway County we're going to need more than lip service and plans that fail to carry through.

"WE ARE going to have to remember that we are shaping our own destiny and the destiny of generations to come by what we do, or fail to do, in the way of proper care of our farm soil. We have shared a divine blessing in the form of fertile soil, a temperate climate and enough rainfall.

"But many times we have wasted much through neglect and ignorance—failing to heed the lessons that anyone can see written on the face of farmlands across the nation. We must learn the danger of this neglect, and we must begin learning now."

College Seniors Cashing In On Industry Needs

Expansion Bringing
New Calls For Brains
Which Youths Offer

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Expanding plants and growing industries call for a fresh supply of brains and talent. And this year's college seniors are cashing in on it.

Placement officers report that a greater proportion of men and women will be heading for jobs next month than ever before in collegiate history. The starting pay will average higher.

Graduating engineers have been snapped up. Students trained in business administration are being recruited. And even the liberal arts schools are placing more graduates in jobs this year, after trailing during much of the business boom.

The Engineers Joint Council, representing 10 engineering societies, reports that some 5,000 companies have been bidding for the 23,000 seniors being graduated from engineering schools. It finds that the 14,000 graduates from two-year technological institutes are also being sought by industry, along with specially trained high school graduates.

The Northwestern National Life Insurance Co., in its annual survey of placements, noted that "at many engineering schools the recruiting firms have outnumbered the available seniors."

The Pennsylvania State University industrial recruiters are reported to have been contacting juniors and sophomores as well. Many companies are wooing students, and their professors, with summer jobs, expecting them to carry a good word about the firm back to the campus next fall.

The director of placement at Northwestern University estimates that hiring of graduates is up by 30 per cent this year. Starting pay for engineers is up an average $23 a month this year to just under $400, and the nontechnically trained are averaging around $350, while women with scientific training are starting at around $340.

Average costs of recruiting teams indicates that interviewing and hiring a student calls for an outlay of $1000 or more. Industrial personnel directors add that on many jobs it may cost as much as $10,000 to train the fledglings for the more responsible positions.

A Notre Dame placement official is quoted as saying the average graduate had a choice of two jobs this year.

The search for competent recruits for industry and trade has spilled out beyond the engineering classes. The American Institute for Foreign Trade, which operates surprisingly enough in the middle of Arizona at the old wartime Thunderbird Field near Phoenix, reports that 71 companies sent representatives to the school, contacted by mail or wire, or flew men back to the port cities for interviews. One third of the graduating class got jobs in foreign trade early and another third is in the process of choosing.

Leading Red Pole Resigns Position

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Poland's current government purge has reached into the top ranks with the "resignation" of Deputy Premier Jacob Berman, considered by many the country's top Red.

Berman's ouster followed that of six other Cabinet ministers and three top court justices. But none had his influence and prestige.

Moscow radio said Berman, 55, quit as deputy premier and Politburo member of Poland's United Workers Communist party because of his "mistakes."

330 Teachers Play Hookey

IRVINGTON, N. J. (AP)—The public schools closed here yesterday because most of the 330 teachers failed to report to class.

In a demonstration for pay increases, some 90 per cent of the teachers at nine elementary schools and Irvington High School phoned in their regrets.

The teachers had unsuccessfully asked the school board to appropriate money enough to give them a flat $400 increase.

World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press
News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The little man gets pains in his head and dollar signs before his eyes when he hears talk about economics. The economists always seem to be disagreeing about money, inflation, deflation, credit.

And when they disagree most they can sound the most positive. Even when they look into the future, as they are always doing, they don't see the same things. The little man thought the pains in his head might go away if he just studied up a bit.

Then he could be positive too, and even if he was wrong he would feel more comfortable because he could be wrong without having doubts about being right.

He opened a book called "Modern Economics." The first sentence told him: "In these times almost everyone regards himself as something of an economist."

This was wonderful news. From now on no matter what he thought he would always have plenty of company. He thought he had plenty of company. He thought he had plenty of company already.

He had heard sales of automobiles and farm machinery were falling, that there have been layoffs in both industries but that employment in general has gone up while basic wages are rising.

But it was talk about credit that had been giving him those pains in the head lately.

Last March Rep. Patman (D-Tex) reflected on the borrowing Americans were doing—they were doing it at a record rate—and seemed to think it was pretty good.

"Credit," Patman said, "is the poor man's capital." And he said "I don't see any harm in it" if consumer credit was twice its present size. But the Board of Governors of the federal reserve system was getting worried about borrowing.

It thought too much of it might push inflation. So it raised the discount rate for its member bankers. This was meant to put a bit of a brake on borrowing because people would have to pay a little higher interest rate on the money they borrowed.

Immediately experts began disagreeing on whether this was good or necessary. President Eisenhower backed the board last week. But two members of his Cabinet had some opinions on the subject—at least, before Eisenhower expressed his.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell said the brake on borrowing "may not have been necessary." He said, "I see no threat of inflation at all." Secretary of Commerce said "money is tight" and he thought making it harder to borrow might be a handicap.

Weeks' Commerce Department, in its most recent report on the economy, painted a pretty picture. It said there were some leveling off from 1955 but the economy is on a high plane.

Its latest figures show: as of March 31 consumer credit was $35,537,000,000 (or 5 1/2 billion dollars higher than last year), installment credit was $27,964,000,000 (up almost five billion), and noninstallment credit was $7,572,000,000 (up more than half a billion).

This report showed just how much people were up to their necks in new automobiles. Auto installment credit was $24,565,000,000, or more than half the nation's total consumer credit of 35 1/2 billion dollars.

Turf Specialist Describes Timely Steps Against Crabgrass

Pickaway County farmers can obtain experienced advice and up-to-date literature on their farming problems at the County Extension Office located in the Post Office Building, S. Court St., Circleville. The office here is the link between district farmers and the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University.

Some of the newer chemicals now on the market will give temporary relief from serious crabgrass problems on Ohio lawns. The assurance comes from Richard R. Davis, turf specialist at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station, Wooster.

There are two general types available. One type is used before crabgrass germinates—about May 1 in this area, earlier in the south and later in the north. The other is intended for use after crabgrass is up and growing.

Post-emergence chemicals—those for applying on crabgrass already growing—include phenyl mercuric acetate, potassium cyanate and disodium methyl arsonate. The latter one is new and has been tried only one year. Following directions is important too, Davis cautions. An overdose can sometimes injure or kill bluegrass. Those labeled as poisons should be handled with care and kept out of reach of children.

Do not expect the same spectacular results that you get with 2,4-D on dandelion, Davis warns. Moreover, you can expect some discoloration of lawn grasses.

Best long-term cure for crabgrass is a dense vigorous sod that will resist invasion of the weed. Davis recommends four steps for cultural control.

1. Fertilize the lawn moderately. 2. Reseed any bare spots larger than 1 square foot. September is the best time to do this, but early Spring will do.

3. Set the mower to cut from one and one-half to two and one-half inches high. This is the most important thing to do in reducing crabgrass.

4. Water with care if at all. Crabgrass likes water. A thorough soaking at weekly or longer intervals is much better for the lawn than frequent light sprinkling.

Where crabgrass is a serious problem, Davis suggests no watering during May, June and July. Do not be alarmed if regular lawn grasses turn brown during dry spells. Green color and renewed growth will start again when rain comes.

Farmers in the upper half of Ohio's farm income bracket received an average net income in 1954 of about $4,000. Yet, they produced 90 percent of all agricultural products sold in Ohio that year.

Robert Schwartz, Ohio State University extension economist, cites these figures in a study of 1954 census data and information compiled by the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station and the university.

Assuming gross income reflects the size of farm operation, Schwartz says farmers in the top half of the income scale operated 80 acres or more. He notes that 13 percent of those in the upper income bracket produced 50 percent of all agricultural products sold. They did it on farms of 215 acres or more.

If those in the top half of the farm income scale worked 3,000 hours a year, their hourly rate would have been $1.33, Schwartz says. At the same time the average factory laborer, working 2,000 hours a year, received an hourly rate of about $1.80.

Many commercial vegetable growers and home gardeners, have learned the value of a small amount of fertilizer applied in water poured around plants at planting time, says C. E. Wittmeyer, Ohio State University extension horticulturist.

Last year, 95 percent of the growers in the Ohio Top Ten Tomato club used a starter fertilizer in the transplanting water. The Top Ten club recognizes growers doing a good job in producing tomatoes for processing.

Several excellent soluble starter fertilizers are on the market, Wittmeyer says. Common analyses include 10-52-17, 10-50-10 and 15-52-9. These should be used according to the manufacturers' directions. Usually this is about 3 pounds per 50 gallons of water or 1 ounce per gallon.

At planting time, 1/2 pint of the solution may be poured around the plant, after which soil should be pulled in to fill the planting hole, Wittmeyer explains.

The starter fertilizer frequently

will result in sizable yield increases, a better stand of plants, and more uniformity at maturity. Starter fertilizers may be used with nearly all vegetable plants, such as peppers, tomatoes, cabbage, eggplant and broccoli.

In case the completely soluble fertilizers are not available, the horticulturist explains, satisfactory substitute is a complete fertilizer such as 4-16-8, 4-12-8, or similar analysis, high in phosphorus. Wittmeyer advises using 10 pounds of the material to 50 gallons of water, or about 3-4 ounces per gallon. This is equivalent to about one cup per 10-quart bucket.

The fertilizer should be dissolved by stirring several times. The dissolved residue remaining in the bottom of the bucket usually is conditioner or lime used in the fertilizer. It can be spread over the garden area.

The starter fertilizer is not a substitute for regular fertilizer programs, Wittmeyer points out.

School Teacher Goes By Horseback

MANCHESTER, Ky. (AP) — Miss Irma Gall, a school teacher, rode her horse to and from classes each day in a remote section of mountainous Clay County.

And she learned to like the olden mode of transportation so well that today she is on a horseback trip to her home in Syracuse, Ind.

Before leaving Monday she said she expected the trip to require two weeks.

She said she would return to her work in August but that her horse, Bob, would be named back. "It's just too hot to ride him from Indiana in August," she said.

Electronic Brain To Test Engines

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A huge electronic brain is being assembled for use in the design of advanced jet engines.

Beckman Instruments, Inc., is building the computer at Berkeley, Calif., for the Allison Division of General Motors in Indianapolis. It will be completed in July. With it, designers can picture an engine in action under varying conditions before it is built. Problems that ordinarily would require several years of man hours to solve can be worked out in a matter of a few weeks with the computer's superior brain, the builder says.

IN A REPORT presented to the House armed services committee by the corps commandant, Gen. Randolph McC. Pate, the Marine Corps disclosed that a night march which cost the lives of six recruits at Parris Island, S. C., April 8, was ordered by Staff Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon (above), 31, while he was "under the influence of alcohol." McKeon is being court-martialed. (International)

Briscoe Assigned To Europe Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has announced the selection of Vice Adm. Robert P. Briscoe to be commander-in-chief of Allied forces in Southern Europe, succeeding Adm. William M. Fechteler who will retire.

Briscoe now is deputy chief of naval operations in charge of fleet operations and readiness.

The announcement of selection of Briscoe to succeed Fechteler came as Eisenhower asked the Senate to promote Briscoe to the rank of full admiral while serving in the new assignment.

Bricker, Bender Urging OK Of Funds For Dillon Dam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Republican Sens. Bricker and Bender have urged Congress to supply $2,600,000 to renew work on Dillon Dam on the Licking River above Zanesville, Ohio.

Nine million dollars, said Bricker, have been spent on this long standing project and the delay in finishing it results in an "unjustifiable and unexplainable waste of the federal government's investment."

Said Bender: "So long as this unsatisfactory situation continues, the flood peril to the Muskingum Valley persists... so long as Dillon remains uncompleted, a huge hole in (A) gigantic network of dikes will exist through which flood waters may pour to ravage the property of the Muskingum Valley."

The senators expressed their views in testimony prepared for the Senate appropriations subcommittee on public works. They asked the committee to recommend that the Senate approved the Dillon appropriation.

President Eisenhower asked Congress for two million dollars to resume work on Dillon in 1955. After Congress refused, he didn't include the item in this year's budget.

"The project," said Bricker, "has been justified several times to Congress as part of the flood control plan for the Ohio River basin. Moreover, it is also very important to the residents of the Muskingum Valley..."

"The delay in securing adequate flood protection retards development and lowers the land values downstream and results in unsettled and uncertain conditions for the residents in the reservoir basin."

A few weeks ago, the congressman whose district partly includes that basin, Rep. McGregor (R-Ohio) told a House appropriations subcommittee his district doesn't want Dillon finished. He said the benefit to cost ratio is too low to make it worth while.

Bricker said: "There was some flood in the City of Zanesville in 1945 and again in 1952." The Army Engineers estimate this flood caused over 1/2 million dollars damage in the Muskingum Valley. The 14 existing reservoirs prevented some $706,000 additional damage in that flood.

The one dam that has not been completed, Dillon, would have prevented more than $200,000 damages."

These figures, Bricker asserted, are based on 1952 prices, so a recurrence of a similar flood "would cause substantially greater damage."

Bricker also contended that the administration's budget asks for 306 million dollars for flood con-

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service is going to shrink DeWitt Clinton's picture a fraction of an inch, saving the taxpayers an estimated $250,000 a year.

Beginning in June, the service will cut down the width of the stamp, including Clinton's picture, by three sixteenths of an inch.

It's Bigger than Both of 'em

—but its price makes it one of America's 3 best sellers!

It's as simple as this:

Only two cars in all creation outsell Buick. And they are two of the well-known smaller cars.

So maybe it will pay you to ask how come Buick has zoomed to the No. 3 spot with such fast-selling company.

Well, one answer is the beautiful and brawny Buick SPECIAL you see pictured here—and the low price it carries.

It's the biggest bundle of high-powered performance and high-fashion luxury ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.

And that means more people want it and can afford it, because it's priced only a few dollars more than its two smaller-car rivals—even less than some models of those very same cars.

But the big answer comes from a sure fact more folks have discovered: you get more pure automobile for your money in Buick than you get elsewhere.

Here, you get the extra wallop of big new Buick power raised to a new high—and pouring in smooth whisper from a brand-new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine of true high compression.

Here, you get the matchless buoyancy of Buick's great new ride—the extra-safe feeling of Buick's new handling ease—the extra stretch-out comfort of Buick roominess—the extra solidity and strength of

Buick structure—the extra pride and prestige of Buick's new styling and dash.

Here, too—and nowhere else—you can get the silk-smooth performance and flash-fast response of Buick's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo*—the world's only transmission with the gas-saving mileage and switch-pitch action of the modern airplane propeller.

This week—this very day, if you wish—you can sample all these Buick blessings to your heart's content and your pocket's joy. Why not drop in on us and do just that?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Design For Airpower

(Editor's Note: This column is furnished as a public service, by the Office of Information Services, Air Research and Development Command, U. S. Air Force.)

Bird With A Kick
The Air Force's falcon missile has much in common with the noble bird used in the medieval sport of falconry. Swift and deadly, it preys on enemy planes instead of game birds.

Carried on interceptor aircraft, the robot falcon has also a mechanical brain that helps it pursue a hostile bomber until a hit and kill are scored. Its small weight and size permit an interceptor to carry several of these missiles under the wings or in pods.

Technically known as a "guided aircraft rocket," the Hughes Falcon can be launched effectively against the biggest airplanes. Being mechanical, it is not easily scared.

Sky Signposts

The old gag about signposts on clouds may come true with the advent of Navaho, a new Air Force system for automatically giving airplanes their exact position.

Under development at ARDC's Rome Air Development Center, Navaho meaning "Navigation and Radio Homing"—requires a special receiver in the airplane and a ground station.

A recently built experimental ground station, with three 625-foot towers, can cover 12 million square miles. In actual operation, ground stations will operate the clock and provide continuous position information to an unlimited number of airplanes over a 2,000-mile range.

An electronic device in the airplane does the figuring. The pilot merely has to look at a dial which tells him in what direction and how far the next ground station is.

When completed, Navaho will be a boon to both military planes and airliners, especially when flying over oceans which, so far, have no signposts either.

Blowing Hot And Cold

At 40,000 feet, the average temperature is 67 degrees below zero. But this doesn't help the jet streaking at twice the speed of sound. For at that speed, even thin air creates enough heat through friction to raise the plane's skin temperature up to 250 degrees!

When planes will be flying at four times the speed of sound, temperatures might rise as much as 1150 degrees. Superplanes of the future, swishing through the air six times as fast as sound, might heat up 2400 degrees—no matter how cold the outside air.

Meteorites flashing down to earth burn up when they enter the atmosphere. Planes would crack or even melt at much lower speeds, because there are as yet no suitable materials for manned airplanes which can withstand the heating at 3000 miles-an-hour and up.

First to succumb to the rising heat would be the pilot and sensitive instruments. One hundred sixty degrees inside the plane is about tops for both. Even at "only" twice the speed of sound, a fighter must carry enough air conditioning equipment to take care of a fair-sized building.

Some people call the heating problem the "thermal barrier." Actually, it is not a barrier but a scientific thicket that becomes more entangled the deeper it is penetrated. Chances are that our scientists will manage to fight their way deep into this thicket because, so far, no barrier or thicket has ever stopped them for long.

Facts And Figures

World airlines have standardized identification of dangerous cargoes: explosives are pictured as a bursting bomb; poison—skull and crossbones; radioactive materials—clouds emitting jagged rays.

The new Boeing Intercontinental 707 jet transport can circle the globe in less than 40 hours.

Three air bases for joint Spanish-U.S. use are being built near Seville, Spain.

Air Force planes fly about ten million hours a year.

It took 18 personnel to maintain one F-86 interceptor during the Korean War. It now takes 206 people to maintain one F-102, our latest interceptor.

St. Louis Area Sees Huge Balloon

ST. LOUIS (AP)—That round object which glowed about 90,000 feet above St. Louis for 2½ hours Monday night was just a weather balloon.

The Weather Bureau and jet pilots, who went up for a closer look, confirmed it.

The glowing ball turned a ruddy crimson and disappeared about 7:20 p.m. (CST).

At least two jet pilots from the Air National Guard at Springfield, Ill., went up to look at the mysterious object.

Despite Tax Hike, Cigarette Use Up

COLUMBUS (AP)—Despite a penny a pack tax increase, Ohioans smoked more cigarettes in April than in the same month last year, State Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers reports.

Bowers said cigarette tax collections last month totaled $2,506,770.63, an increase of $905,360.34 over April 1955. Adjusted for the cent increase, revenues were approximately $70,000 more.

Tax collections on 3.2 beer dropped 7.64 per cent, were up 20 per cent on malt beverages and up 9.44 per cent on wine.

Tito Is Hailed On Paris Visit

PARIS (AP)—Yugoslavia's Communist President Tito arrived in Paris Monday and received a red carpet welcome from France's top officials.

Tito, Foreign Minister Koca Popovic and other Yugoslav officials gathered in the visitors' room at the railroad station with President Rene Coty and French leaders as introductions were made.

At Elyse Palace, President Coty pinned France's military medal on his visitor in a ceremony on a terrace overlooking the spacious presidential gardens.

Canada Oldsters Still Campaigning

OTTAWA (AP)—The Big Three of Canada's ruling Liberal party are warming up for the next general election with a zest belying the fact that all are in their 70s.

Prime Minister Louis Stephen St. Laurent, Trade Minister Clarence Decatur Howe and Agriculture Minister James Garfield Gardiner are not only big guns in the party; they are the dominant figures in the administration, too.

St. Laurent, 74, has made known he will lead the Liberal forces to the polling expected next year. Howe is 70 and Gardiner, 72.

The surrealism movement was founded in Paris in 1924.

Dayton High School Arson Try Fails

DAYTON (AP)—An attempt to set fire to Chaminade High School has been disclosed by Fire Chief Forrest Lucas.

Five days ago police received three anonymous phone calls warning that a bomb would be set off in the school.

The fire chief said a small blaze blackened a stair post on a landing between the first and second floors but that it burned out shortly after it was started.

Police, fire and school officials bomb threats. Police searched the school after the bomb calls but found nothing.

THE RULE OF TABOO

THIS COMPLEX civilization and heralded culture occasionally must stagger under man's admission that the howling savage at times solved his problems with greater ease. Savages were ruled by the taboo and the law of the taboo was not to be violated.

Modern human beings are creatures in a culture that never has learned how to impress its members with "musts" and "must nots."

Children refer to teachers as "sour pussies," "old goats" and "heels, without a word of admonition from their parents. Too many are sent to school with orders to go because they have to go, and without explanation that school is maintained for the child's benefit.

Children are permitted to be cop-haters, with parents neglecting to explain that police have a place in the scheme of modern life. Few parents bother to explain destruction of public property comes out of the family purse—through taxes.

Borrowing again from the savage, it must be remembered that one thing he hated was cowardice. Not one of the young vandals who frequently run afoul of the law by destroying public or private property probably has ever been told that such an act is the act of a coward. They think it is an act of boldness because they have never been told differently.

DIE IS CAST

THIS COUNTRY'S dramatic proffer of 220 pounds of fissionable materials to activate atomic reactors around the world was a telling answer to Russia's carping attempts to keep the "atoms for peace" proposal from materializing. It is a bold proposition which if followed through to fruition promises to lift man to greater material heights than he has ever known.

In UN discussions of an international atomic agency, Soviet Delegate Vishinsky has sought to poison the minds of the smaller nations with respect to U. S. intentions, suggesting it was a propaganda move subject to repudiation. A peaceful atomic program which promises a better life is the last thing in the world desired by the communists who prey on poverty and ignorance. But there seems to be hope that the die to a better world has been cast.

By this single stroke the U. S. gave the atoms for peace plan so much momentum that Russia has little alternative than to at least pretend to go along, however reluctantly.

WALL STREET "HICKS"

AMERICANS who reside in what Gothamites consider the "hinterland" can feel superior to those Wall Street apple knockers clutching peddled gold bricks and shouting for the scalp of Joseph Bardach.

A 65-year-old customers man Bardach showed a change of pace. He shunned the traditional haunts of the confidence man, those milk train stops where the fine print of mining stock is not decipherable under the oil lamps. Instead, he picked up $200,000, part of it by sale of stocks in non-existent companies, right down where they publish those brochures about being wary of get-rich-quick schemes for reading by rural dolts.

Maybe it's the inferiority complex in most people that makes the financial sation many people think him to be. He came up the hard slow way before achieving the rank of a top comedian.

George, whose dad ran a general store in Chicago, was a schoolboy soprano in a church choir when he was asked to sing at a wedding. He sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden," and afterward someone handed him an envelope containing $2.

"I thought to myself, 'Boy, how long has this been going on?'" George recalled. "I turned pro right then."

He and his guitar soon became fixtures on Midwest radio barn dance radio shows.

During the war Gobel, already a pilot, trained combat fliers in the old B26. It was while entertaining at Army shows that George began to emerge as a comedian. He worked up to star billing on the night club circuit.

These Days

From Peking comes the following item: "... If the United States withdrew its offer of aid, that was the price Ceylon would cheerfully pay to maintain her independence, stated the Ceylon 'Morning Times' on April 11. 'After all, we have survived without American aid all these years, and our self respect cannot be bought with dollars,' it added.

"The paper stated: 'If any country in the world offers Ceylon aid without strings she will gladly and gratefully accept as Nehru's India has done, but she cannot be bought, sold or bartered.' The paper asserted that 'Ceylon is flattered by the world's interest in her freedom and safety but she will decide for herself along which path her security lies and will act accordingly without bowing to bribes or threats.'"

In contrast, the Mongolian Home Service broadcasted in Russian:

"In response to the ever-increasing assistance of the Soviet Union, the workers of the Mongolian People's Republic express their sincere and heartfelt gratitude to the fraternal Soviet People and its vanguard, the Communist Party of the Soviet Union and the Soviet Government, and are full of determination to achieve even greater successes in Socialist construction under the leadership of their beloved People's Revolutionary Party."

More and more countries are responding to American aid as the Ceylon newspaper does, namely, that in some manner when a country accepts American aid it is doing the United States some kind of a favor. This is due to several reasons: faulty salesmanship by our almoners, Paul G. Hoffman and Harold Stassen; Soviet propaganda to the effect that the United States had to give aid in order to maintain full employment; and finally our constant tendency to appease nations whose tone and manner are impudent. Impudence has become a weapon of diplomacy aimed at the United States; it is never employed against Soviet Russia.

It would be interesting to know how much Soviet Russia has given outright. It is probably very little because whenever the nature of a transaction is available, a barter of some kind is indicated, or a loan agreement is announced. With capitalistic wisdom, Russia gives little or nothing away without some kind of compensation.

But the United States has based its give-away programs upon a doctrine of sheer charity; it has been a good-will offering, a sharing. As that sort of action is not understood by most countries of this world, it has been regarded with suspicion, and the suspicion has increased as the amounts of gold dollars have continued to pour into governments.

Why should not strings be attached to any aid we give any country? Ceylon is an excellent example. This country had a right to assume that as long as Sir John Kotelawala was the Prime Minister, the government of Ceylon would not be antagonistic to the United States. Such an assumption is not possible today because the new government is at best neutral. It is a government which is under the influence of Nehru of India.

Because of this change in Administration in Ceylon, it is likely that the economic relations between that country and Soviet Russia will come closer. Ceylon is a great tea-growing country and Soviet Russia and its satellites are great tea-consuming countries. There is room therefore for important barter arrangements between Ceylon and Soviet Russia.

street's scandal so delectable. Without mentioning that trunkful of gilt-edged but outdated promises of riches up in the attic, occupants of the dunce's bench willingly move over to make room for the Wall Street suckers.

DIET AND HEALTH

Planning Low Salt Diet

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

LOW salt diets usually mean a mighty confusing time for you, patients who have to abide by them. But it's even worse for the homemaker who has to prepare the meals.

As a rule, the doctor will tell a patient with a heart or kidney disease that he must not eat "salty things." He will probably give him a printed list of low sodium foods and the patient soon discovers for himself what foods can and cannot be eaten.

Endless Search
That means an endless search of the supermarkets or the corner grocery examining each label in an effort to determine the salt content.

Fortunately, the National Research Council has prepared an accurate sodium count of various foods you are likely to use in your daily menus. Your doctor can best tell you how much salt you can use.

Low sodium foods include: Chicken, light meat, fresh milk, maple syrup, rice, corn, shredded wheat and puffed rice.

Foods with moderate sodium content include: Enriched white

bread, mayonnaise, canned green beans, canned vegetable soup, potato chips, flavored gelatin, rice flakes and corn flakes.

High sodium foods include: Fried crisp bacon, green olives, rye crackers, bologna sausage, frankfurters, margarine, wheat flakes and bran flakes.

As a group, cheeses would be classified in the high sodium category, although types of cheese vary in sodium content.

For instance—Processed cheese, 1,500 mg.; cheddar, 700 mg.; Gruyere, 540 mg.; cottage, 290 mg. and cream, 110 mg.

Most beverages are fairly low in sodium. Sodium content per 100 cubic centimeters for the following is: Sauterne wine, 10 mg.; beer, 8 mg.; root beer, 8 mg.; ginger ale, 3 mg.; brandy, 3 mg.; cola beverages, 2 mg.; gin, 0.7 mg. and blended whiskey, 0.7 mg.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Miss M. B.: What is the cause of my profuse perspiration on drinking a warm drink?

Answer: The taking of any warm beverage may cause a person to perspire, due to the effect of the warm drink on the nervous mechanism.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

The Ohio Legislature earmarked $160,000 for Memorial Lake, to be built at "Devil's Backbone" in Washington Township.

Six Circleville organizations studied the possibility of forming a "United Youth Council."

Ashville lost to Milford Center 3 to 2 in a District Class B baseball game.

TEN YEARS AGO

Circleville voters failed to pass the proposed $387,000 school bond issue by only 18 votes, while Deer Creek Township voters approved a $50,000 issue.

City councilmen ordered a survey to be made of the community's sewer needs.

The domestic science class from Jackson Township School toured several business firms in Circleville.

Twenty-five years ago Council accepted a new five-year electric rate play calling for nine cents an hour for the first 50 kilowatt hours to four cents an hour over 100 kw.

Harold J. Bowers was re-elected superintendent of Deer Creek Township High School.

An ordinance calling for an extension of the sewer system out on Lancaster Pike within the city limits was turned down by council.

Two of the moving spirits at a convention banquet drank so many toasts that finally they scarcely could move at all. "Lucky for me," one congratulated himself, "when I'm in this condition, I let somebody take me home, and then I fall sound asleep the minute I hit the old bed."

"My trouble," confessed the other, "is hitting the old bed."

During a tour of America, the distinguished Irish wit, orator, and parliamentarian, T. P. O'Connor—fondly known as "Tay Pay"—to his constituents—was asked repeatedly, "What is the state of Ireland today?"

"Status quo," Tay Pay would reply cheerily. "In the south of Ireland we have the Catholics, and in the north the Protestants, and they're at each others' throats as usual all the time."

"If only they were haythen so they could live together loike Christians!"

CHAPTER 18
VAL WAS walking briskly past the officers' quarters when she found herself face to face with Dirk. He had been sauntering along in his casual way when he saw Val coming toward him. He stopped, as she did.

"Hello, Val," he said easily. "Come and lean over the railing and have a chat."

"No, thank you. I've come up on deck to walk. I need the exercise."

"I see I'm in the dog house," he said, grinning. "Look here, have a cigarette and let's find out what's the matter. You're not," he raised one eyebrow slightly, "still angry about last night?"

"It isn't pleasant to be mixed up in a brawl," she said, and turned deliberately away from him.

"You seriously think I was drunk, Val?"

She was still looking steadily out to sea. "You said you were, and what other excuse could there be for your behavior?"

"But you know I wasn't drunk, Val." His hand was grasping her arm tightly as though demanding an answer.

She hesitated. "At least you weren't drunk the last time you danced with me and that was only two dances before that wretched scene."

She added with a sharp break in her voice. "Then if you weren't drunk, why did you do it?"

"Do you think I'd allow any man to call me a swine and get away with it?" He gave her a curious glance and added, "Or perhaps you think that wasn't sufficient provocation?"

"I agree he shouldn't have said what he did. I suppose he can never forgive you for what happened in the past."

"Frankly, I don't think last night had anything to do with the past," he said abruptly. "You're not very conceited, are you?"

She swung toward him and said angrily, "Oh, yes I am, normally conceited. But it is difficult to stretch one's conceit to a point to believe that two men should suddenly start fighting in the middle of a dance floor over a girl they'd known the short time you and I were here."

She looked at him thoughtfully.

Bruce have known me. I may have been the obvious cause of the row, but if there hadn't been a strong antagonism between you two that had its roots in the past, it wouldn't have happened."

"I can see you're on his side. He's captured your fancy in the same way he did Eileen's."

"But he didn't knock you down."

"No." Suddenly he grinned. "Do you know, it gave me quite a kick to think I could knock him flat! He's so much better than I am. I suppose I shouldn't have been able to do it. If I hadn't been so darned mad."

"And he wasn't expecting you to hit him either," she reminded him.

"No." His thin face sobered. "But he had it coming to him. It's been coming to him for quite a long while. There's no reason why he should be rude to me—on the contrary."

"You think he should be pleasant about the fact that you stole his girl away from him?"

"That isn't quite the truth, Val."

She glanced up at him in a startled way. "What do you mean by that?"

"Nothing I can tell you at present. And," he added, speaking more vehemently, "let's drop this subject, shall we? I find it boring. Let's talk about something much more interesting."

"Such as?"

He laughed again and when next he spoke it was in his usual pleasant, easygoing voice. "Why not talk about your eyes and how very blue they are this morning? As blue as that sparkling sea. I swear."

He paused and added in a slightly mocking voice, "Or am I boring you now?"

Val laughed too. She found it impossible to be angry with him for long. "Naturally I don't mind," she said aloud. "No one really minds compliments."

"No," he agreed soberly. "I think at heart we're all uncertain of ourselves—we don't even know where we're going. I know I haven't the ghost of an idea where I'm going. But I suppose that denotes a weak character?"

She looked at him thoughtfully.

Convention Delegates Give Reports To Monday Club

Mrs. Ray Davis Honored At Meet

Highlight of last evening's meeting of the Monday Club was reports of delegate who attended the 59th annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs in Columbus.

Mrs. Collis Young, president, presided for a short business session. Mrs. Ray Davis, newly installed president of the Ohio Federation, briefly reported some events of the convention, which she said was the largest Federation meeting ever held in Ohio with 1,100 women present.

Mrs. Davis expressed her gratitude to the Monday Club for her club background and the gift of an antique water pitcher presented to her in honor of her office. She also thanked the Southeast district for their gift, which was an 1870 planter.

Mrs. Milton Patterson reported on the meetings she attended as a delegate from the Monday Club. She said that Mayor M. E. (Jack) Sosenbrenner welcomed the women to Columbus.

A panel discussed "Ohio Federation Projects" was followed by the Circleville High School sextette presenting musical selections, under the direction of Mr. Truman Oberly and accompanied on the piano by Barbara Samuel.

During the afternoon the eight presidents from the districts reported for each district. The Southeast district, in which Circleville is located, was awarded a banner in recognition of more newly formed clubs than any other district.

Miss Donna Mitchell sang the invocation for the night session.

A trophy, presented to the Federation in honor of Mrs. Elizabeth B. Smith who is past president of the Federation, will be presented each year to the club with the best publicity.

Mrs. Clarence Goldthorpe, treasurer of the General Federation, spoke on the policy and progress of women. She pointed out things which women helped bring about, such as the Pure Food Acts, industrial homes for women, juvenile courts, an eight hour day and the Federal Child Labor Law.

Mrs. Mary Lou Pfeiffer spoke on "4-H After Forty." She listed harmony, happiness, humility and health as being important.

To conclude her report Mrs. Patterson told that the Rev. Dr. Eugene Beach of First Christian Church in Youngstown gave a talk entitled, "Life's Great Adventure."

Mrs. Howard Newell Stevenson also served as a delegate and reported the following: A panel on "Pursuit of Learning" by the education department. To highlight their discussion they told that if eight rooms were added every day to the school system in 10 years there would be enough room in public schools.

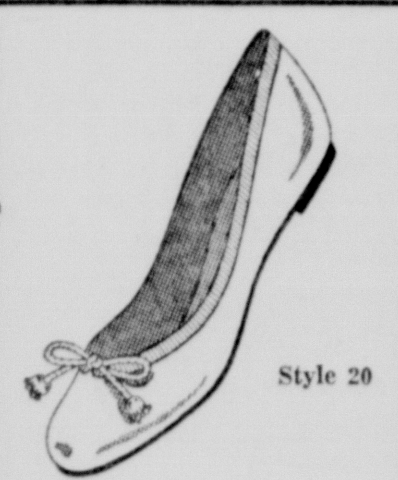

During the afternoon Mrs. Stevenson attended the symposium, "Progress in Medicine." The different phases were: public and mental health, cancer and heart disease.

They told that science now has a drug which will arrest rheumatic heart condition.

They told that 24 million dollars was spent in research for cancer last year and more money is needed.

During the evening she attended the banquet, which featured the installation of Mrs. Davis.

Mrs. Martin Cromley of the Monday Club served as chairman of the hostesses and Mrs. Ralph Hosler

Civil War Tale Is Winner Of Pulitzer Prize

Husband-Wife Team Also Honored For Year's Best Drama

NEW YORK (AP)—Pulitzer Prizes have been bestowed on MacKinlay Kantor for his Civil War novel "Andersonville" and on a husband-wife playwrighting team for their Broadway hit, "The Diary of Anne Frank."

The 1936 Pulitzer awards in journalism, literature and music were announced Monday by the trustees of Columbia University.

Kantor's novel, the story of the horrors of a Confederate prison camp, won the Pulitzer Prize for fiction.

In Paris Monday night Kantor expressed great satisfaction. "After 30 books," he said, "a writer can hardly be blamed for hankering after something like this."

The author is vacationing in Europe with his family.

Albert Hackett and Frances Goodrich won the drama award for their stage adaptation of the diary of a 13-year-old Jewish girl who died in a Nazi concentration camp in World War II.

The annual Pulitzer Prizes are awarded by the Columbia trustees under the will of the late Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of the old New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. The first prizes were made in 1917.

None of this year's winners had won a Pulitzer Prize before.

The Watsonville (Calif.) Register-Pajaronian was named winner of the public service award in journalism. The newspaper, with a circulation of 7,800 carried on a crusade that led to the resignation of a district attorney and the conviction of one of his associates.

At Watsonville, Editor Frank Orr commented:

"I am very humble that a newspaper of our small size, way off in a far corner of the United States, was chosen for such an honor. I can say on behalf of our staff — and this was a joint staff effort — that we are very happy."

The international reporting award went to a roving three-man team from the Hearst newspapers. The team was headed by Editor in Chief William Randolph Hearst Jr.

Cited with Hearst for exclusive interviews with Soviet leaders were Kingsbury Smith, vice president and general manager of International News Service, and Frank Conniff, editorial assistant to Hearst.

Other journalist winners: Local reporting (under stress of an edition deadline) — Lee Hills, executive editor of the Detroit Free Press, for his coverage of the United Auto Workers' negotiations for supplemental employment pay.

Local reporting (no edition deadline) — Arthur Daley of the New York Times for his coverage of sports in his column "Sports of the Times."

National reporting — Charles L. Bartlett of the Chattanooga (Tenn.) Times, for his series exposing a conflict of interests that led to the resignation of Harold E. Talbot as secretary of the Air Force.

Editorials — Lauren K. Soth of the Des Moines Register and Tribune for his editorial invitation that led to the visit of a Russian farm delegation to Iowa.

Cartooning — Robert York of the Louisville, (Ky.) Times for "Achilles," his depiction of the weak heel of farm prices upon which the bulging figure of American prosperity rested.

Photography — The New York Daily News for consistently excellent news picture coverage. An outstanding example cited was George Mattson's air view of a bomber crash in the street of a Long Island, N.Y., community. Twenty-five other Daily News photographers were also named in the citation.

The winning newspaper receives

RUSSIA DOES have more modern heavy bombers and is turning them out faster than the U.S. Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson tells reporters in Washington, but he refuses to go along with statement of Gen. Curtis LeMay, Strategic Air commander, that in two to four years Russia will have superior long range striking power under present projected plans of both nations. He said LeMay is a "dedicated specialist" who is commendably zealous about "his part of the business." (International)

2 U.S. Navy Ships Damaged In Mishap

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The battleship Wisconsin and the escort destroyer Eaton, heavily damaged when they collided off the Virginia Capes Sunday, have arrived here for extensive repairs.

The 45,000-ton Wisconsin, with 30 feet of her bow smashed, reached port Monday under her own power. The 2,100-ton Eaton, with a 30-foot gash in her starboard side from main deck to waterline, had to be towed in stern first by the fleet tug Utina for drydocking.

No injuries were reported in the collision.

Fire Department Chalks Up Record

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Probably the fastest fire alarm on record here was turned in Monday night. A lightning bolt from a local thunderstorm knocked out a fire alarm box and set off the signal. Firemen said the nice part about the incident was that the fire was cut before the alarm had finished sounding.

Sea Elephant Is Given Mate

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis zoo's biggest romance is in the making.

A candidate for affections of the two-ton sea elephant, Moby Dick, has arrived by air from California. The 500-pound mate was termed a regular beauty in sea elephant circles Monday by zoo Director George P. Vierheller.

a golden plaque. Individual winning journalists get $1,000 each. Awards in letters and music are $500 each.

Other winners included: History — "The Age of Reform," Richard Hofstadter's study of the passion for progress and reform from 1890 to 1940.

Biography — "Benjamin Henry Latrobe," a full length biography by Talbot Hamlin of America's first professional architect.

Poetry — Elizabeth Bishop's collection of poems, "North and South — a Cold Spring."

Music — Ernest Toch, self-taught Viennese composer, for his "Symphony No. 3." He is now a U.S. citizen.

A $1,500 traveling scholarship in art went to Mrs. Carol Maringer Benson of Cleveland, Ohio.

Numerous Ohio Candidates Just Taking Free Ride Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Twelve candidates for statewide office and 32 candidates for Congress took a "free ride" in today's primary elections. They had no opposition and won nomination automatically.

Twelve of Ohio's 17 incumbent Republican congressmen lacked primary opposition. Four had opposition and one—Oliver P. Bolton of the 11th District—was not a candidate for re-election.

None of Ohio's six Democrats in the House was opposed for re-nomination.

Both GOP and Democratic candidates for the U. S. Senate were without opposition — Sen. George H. Bender, the incumbent, and his Democratic challenger, Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

To Republican Secretary of State Ted W. Brown and his Democratic opponent in November, Hubert Lynch of Brooklyn, also the primaries were a formality.

The same was true for State Auditor James A. Rhodes and Democrat Joseph T. Ferguson who is trying to win back the office Rhodes won from him in 1932.

Roger W. Tracy, three-term state treasurer, had no opposition for renomination on the GOP ticket, but there was a contest on the Democratic side.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant was unchallenged within his party for a fifth six-year term and his Republican opponent next November, Willard D. Campbell of Cambridge, also had a clear path in the primary.

No opposition developed for either party's candidate for the Supreme Court nomination for the term beginning Jan. 1. Republican Judge John M. Matthias will be opposed in November by Democrat Merrill D. Brothers of Columbus.

There are no available reports on what has happened to China's important tea trade. By 1927, the Central China tea trade, centering in Hankow, had so deteriorated that it had lost its economic significance. Prior to the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917, Russia was the principal importer of tea from Hankow, much of it being carried in caravans across Mongolia to the Trans-Siberian Railroad. The British preferred Indian tea which includes Ceylon tea.

The Japanese used Fukien and Formosan teas and exported quantities to all parts of the world, a large market developing in North Africa. The United States took to coffee, which is another story.

If the tea groves in China have not been properly cared for during the past years, it is understandable that Ceylon would want to take advantage of both the Russian and Chinese markets and could make a good trade with these countries. Tea, like rice, can be politics in Asia. And the movement of the tea crop is more valuable both economically and politically than getting gold dollar credits for nothing.

Gas Hike Sought

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio Fuel Gas Co., citing spiraling costs, has filed with Columbus officials a request for a 14.8 per cent hike in the city's natural gas rates.

Grain 'Fixing' Accusation Filed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has issued a formal complaint accusing the Continental Grain Co. of Chicago with "manipulation" of the price of wheat on the Kansas City Board of Trade.

The complaint said that transactions of the concern on this futures contract on Jan. 26 and Nov. 30 last year in connection with export sales violated provisions of the Commodity Exchange Act. This act declares price manipulation to be unlawful.

The grain company was given 20 days in which to file an answer in preparation for a hearing set for June 6 at Kansas City.

New Tollroad Data Study Completed

COLUMBUS (AP)—State Highway Director S. O. Linzell has completed his study of two engineering reports on a proposed second turnpike in Ohio but refuses comment as to whether the reports show the turnpike to be financially feasible.

Linzell said the reports, prepared by J. E. Greiner Co., and Coverdale and Colpitts, make no recommendations.

Last Friday, the highway department said the reports indicated a Conneaut to Cincinnati turnpike could cost Ohio nearly $36 million.

New Bill Seen Aid To Veterans' Kin

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House passed a bill to raise by $600 the amount of income a widow or a child of a veteran may have in the year in which the veteran dies and still be eligible for Veterans Administration payments.

Under present law a child cannot get the VA pension if his income is more than $1,400 a year. The widow's income limitations are $1,400 if she has no minor children and $2,700 if she has children. The bill, now goes to the Senate.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband and I are a young couple in our late twenties, and about a year ago we adopted the most precious baby in the world—then two months old. We wanted a baby so badly, and since four had been lost us, you can imagine how much it means to us to have this little one.

My reason for writing is my concern for the baby's natural mother. We don't know here, of course, only that she was a very young girl. I think of her so much, especially on holidays, the baby's birthday, etc. I cry myself to sleep thinking of her, and wondering if she is longing for her baby.

I know it is impossible, but I wish I could tell her how happy and healthy her little daughter is; and how very much she is loved. We thank God each day for entrusting such a sweet child to our care.

What can I do to get over this feeling for the baby's mother? She must be a lovely girl, her baby is so sweet.

pity for the other mother, who has "lost" her child to you.

I don't discount the potential value of your concern for the other mother. In my opinion, it is possible for you to help her immeasurably, and to bring her the peace that "passeth understanding" (in case she is heartwringing), by daily lifting her needs to God in prayer. To do this effectively, it isn't necessary for you to know her personally; but only that you be loyally mindful of her welfare, as a person whose life is linked in Providential ways with yours.

M. H. Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of this newspaper.

OHIO OUTDOORS

from THE OHIO DIVISION OF WILDLIFE

O. A. Alderman, chief of the Division of Forestry, has announced that checks totaling more than $4,000 have been mailed to various Ohio counties in keeping with the Division's policy of re-implementing the counties where state forests are located for cuttings made in those forests during six months periods.

The payment is made on the basis of 25 percent of the stumpage value of forest products removed from the forests. The cuttings are made primarily for the improvement of growing stock in the forests. Alderman said that sales of the cuttings represented primarily pulpwood, guard rail posts, saw logs, fence posts, Christmas trees, greens and some fuel wood.

Hocking county will receive the largest reimbursement for cuttings on the 8,868-acre Hocking Forest. The amount received will be $1,096. Pike county will receive the next largest amount $558, and Adams county follows with $469.

Smallest check will go to Meigs county amounting to $127.

Alderman said that counties are also reimbursed in the amount of 25 percent for any minerals recovered during operations on the state forests.

Governor Frank J. Lausche has announced the appointment of the members of the Ohio Water Resources Advisory Committee.

The committee, which consists of five lay members and two members of the General Assembly, acts in an advisory capacity to the Ohio Water Resources Board.

Appointed by the Governor for five year terms were: Kenneth M. Lloyd of Youngstown, Evans Stearns of Lockland, George N. Schoonmaker of Toledo, Don E. Smith of Columbus and Stanley Rubey of Lucasville.

A representative of agriculture is yet to be named. Legislative members will be named at the next session of the General Assembly.

The advisory committee meets quarterly with the Water Resources Board.

After May 1, 1956 all boat and motor licenses must be purchased at the area where the craft is to be used.

In the past, licenses could be obtained at the Ohio Departments Building in Columbus either by applying in person or by mail. To insure the safety of the craft for which the license is being issued, the license must be purchased at park and lake headquarters areas where inspection of the boats can be made.

Applications are now being taken for the rental of state cabins on South Bass Island or Put-In-Bay.

Three cabins are available for rental: Rates are: $45 per week for six or less persons; daily rate $8. Over six persons $75 per week, plus $9 per week for each additional person. Daily rate is $12. For twelve or more persons the weekly rate is $100. Daily rate $20.

Applications should be mailed to Kenneth Landon, Park Manager, Catawba State Park, Port Clinton.

AFTER passing over the baton during the one-mile high school relay championships at the recent Penn Relays, Ronnie Sullivan took a tumble. The fall didn't hurt his team's chances, however, for it went on to win the race. (International)

Pleasant Twp. Defeats Scioto 5-3 In Class B

Committing nine costly errors, Scioto Township lost a 5 to 3 decision to Pleasant Township in District Class B in Columbus Monday.

The Marion County crew took full advantage of the Buffaloes' fielding miscues. At least three of their runs were unearned.

Scioto could only get four hits off Pleasant Township, including a double by Knapp. Both Delby Neff of Scioto and C. Leffler of Pleasant Township had good control, each walking only a man or two. Neff had eight strikeouts.

The Buffaloes will play Ashville for the Pickaway County title at a date yet to be decided.

CHS Eliminated From District By Losing 4-3 To Grove City

Circleville's Tigers put up a stubborn battle before bowing to Grove City here Monday 4 to 3. CHS is thus eliminated from District Class A play.

The winning Greyhounds scored the deciding run in the top of the seventh. Jack Funk walked, stole second, went to third on an infield out and scored on a hit to deep short.

Fielding lapses caused the Tigers' downfall, when two runs scored in the fourth. On the other hand, heads up play on the part of catcher Ralph Jones, whose rifle peg picked a runner off first in the late innings, helped out.

CHS just could not get to Ed Ebert, the Greyhounds' hurler. He kept the Tiger hits well scattered.

PERHAPS the only consolation is that Grove City, with a fine athletic program, has only lost one game this season—to Columbus St. Charles on April 24.

The loss gives CHS an 8-3 record.

Here is the box score of Monday's game played at Ted Lewis Park:

OSU Quietly Cleaning Up After Big Ten Spanking

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University, placed on a year's probation recently for infractions of the Big Ten athletic code, is moving quietly to put its house in order.

Dignified acceptance of the penalty, and solemn promises by all concerned to live within the rules, greeted the edict handed down by Western Conference Commissioner Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson.

Wilson, who addressed some 1,000 high school coaches on the campus last weekend at a banquet sponsored by the university, said he "admired the way Ohio State has accepted this thing (probation and Rose Bowl ban) and the way they are proceeding."

President Howard Bevis said the university had swallowed its medicine, was determined to live within the rules, and would be heard from within the rules.

Athletic Director Dick Larkins, in a letter mailed to alumni, explained the reasons for the probation and said Wilson had conducted a long, thorough and fair investigation.

"We have done our utmost to assist in this investigation by being honest and truthful, and at no time have resorted to covering up the facts," Larkins said.

"It gives us an opportunity to strive diligently in the conference circles for a set of more realistic rules under which we can operate more practically and with less hypocrisy. It will enable us to gear our problem of unearned financial aid in conformity with, not only established law and order, but standards of decency to the young men on our squads."

The university was penalized because head Coach Woody Hayes had made small loans or monetary gifts to his players, a practice frowned upon by the conference, and because its outside work program for athletes did not conform to Big Ten rules.

Pacific Coast Eyes 'Alarming' Athletic Situation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Presidents of the nine Pacific Coast conference schools, concerned with an "alarming situation" in violations of its athletic code, may change the rules.

Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, president of the University of California and spokesman for the presidents, said the group next fall would "determine whether the rules now governing PCC athletics are realistic."

The penalty will cost Washington more than $50,000 in Rose Bowl income and prohibits the Huskies from being listed as champions in any sport or taking part in any post-season or all-conference competitions. The school was found guilty of letting football players get help from a fund set up by outside interests.

Pimlico race course's clubhouse was built in 1870. It is one of the oldest structures in racing. The basement originally contained bowling alleys for fans to use between races.

The roster of the Kansas City Athletics includes the names of 18 players who once belonged to other teams in the major leagues.

Reds Bonus Player Faces Army Duty

CINCINNATI (AP)—Bonus player Al Silveira of the Cincinnati Reds took his pre-induction physical examination yesterday in nearby Covington, Ky. The results are to be forwarded to his draft board in Los Angeles.

Silveira, 20, signed last year and appeared in only 13 Redleg games, mostly as a pinch runner. He started doing some catching in spring training this year.

Tom Eveland Wins Handicap Tourney

Tom Eveland, Circleville city fireman, has been declared the winner at the annual Directors Spring Handicap Tournament, which was played at the Pickaway Country Club.

Eveland and Bill Goodchild had been tied with 72 on a matching of cards. On the second extra hole of playoff, Eveland birdied out to win. Bob Brooks of Chillicothe was third with a net score of 74. Approximately 35 to 40 players were on hand to play.

Club officials said the turnout for this tourney indicated a banner year.

Cigarette Found In Racer's Fuel

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Mechanics fished an unsmoked cigarette from the fuel line of a car being readied for the May 30 Indianapolis race yesterday and one said it didn't appear the cigarette got there by accident.

Frank Glidden, chief mechanic of the car owned by Fred Sommers of Indianapolis, said there are no cigarette smokers among the car's pit crew members.

"I've been in auto racing a lot of years, and this is the first time this ever happened to me," said Glidden. "The tank was clean when brought to the track."

Only three members of the Milwaukee Braves have participated in 1,000 or more major league games. They are Andy Pafko (1,558), Bobby Thomson (1,198) and Del Rice (1,064).

Three singles, two of them bunts, three walks, a hit batsman, a wild pitch and a sacrifice fly brought the Cards from behind as starter-loser Windy McCall, Hoyt Wilhelm and Marv Grissom had their troubles in the sixth inning. Red Schoendienst, who has hit safely in 15 straight games, singled the tie breaker across in the frame. McDaniel, a bonus baby, won his second with a hitless sixth in relief of Ben Flowers.

The Giants' Bill White, called up from Minneapolis Monday, broke into the lineup as the 26th player to swat a home run in his first major league at-bat. He also doubled and singled.

LIFE AND DEATH story was written at the Vallejo, Calif., Speedway as Driver George Amick came out of this stock car accident alive but another driver, Walt Faulkner, in a similar accident, lost his life. Amick, held in his car with a safety harness, survived with painful injuries. Faulkner was thrown out of his stock car and was crushed to death. The Amick crash is seen in these Magic Eye photos. ## Big Question: Can Redlegs Stay On Top?

CINCINNATI (P)—The Cincinnati Redlegs climbed the National League ladder in a hurry last week. Will they stay there?

The New York Giants turn in here today for a two game series with the Redlegs under the lights that may supply the answer.

Manager Bobby Bragan of the Pittsburgh Pirates thinks the Reds have "more all-around class than any club we've faced so far this season, and we've played them all with the exception of the Cubs and Braves."

Bragan, after the Pirates lost to the Reds in 10 innings Saturday, said, "with Mr. Muscles (Ted Kluszewski) back in the lineup no club in our league or no club in baseball, for that matter, can match them in power."

"And that kid (Frank) Robinson looks like another Willie Mays to me. He's easily the best-looking rookie I've seen this spring."

The home run is one of the big factors in boosting the Redlegs to second place. The Redlegs have 37 so far in 18 games.

If this rate were continued, the Reds would finish the season with more than 300 round-trip blows, roughly 100 more than any team in history.

The Redlegs put their hopes tonight on the arm of righthander Art Fowler, while the Giants nominated Jim Hearn, another right-hander, in opposition.

Vital Series With Yankees Faces Indians

NEW YORK (P)—Confident, cool and composed, the Cleveland Indians arrived in town for a three-game set with the Yankees.

The Tribe was squarely on the spot. There is an undercurrent of despair in the rest of the American League at the Yanks' overpowering strength. The Indians are the only contenders they haven't bullied.

Casey Stengel's men browbeat the Boston Red Sox four out of five, then polished off the Chicago White Sox twice Sunday. That, by a process of elimination, leaves the Indians.

"Well," said Stengel before the game, "we've seen them all except Cleveland, and I see no point in getting afraid now."

The Professor refuses to be drawn out on the possibility of the Yanks wrapping it all up early but in response to a laughing query as to how he'd feel if his club was home safe by midseason, he sighed:

"I'd just like to have the pleasure of knowing how it feels."

What has the rest of the league in a state of desperation is the fact that the Yanks are operating at almost half power. Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra, Hank Bauer and Moose Skowron all have been powdering the ball, but Joe Collins, Gil MacDougald, Andy Carey and Billy Martin own a combined average of about .201.

Still, Senior Al Lopez doesn't seem worried. He has his three top pitchers—Early Wynn (paired with Tommy Byrne in the opener), Herb Score and Bob Lemon—set for the series, and had kind words for the rest of his team.

Giardello Offered Another Chance

NEW YORK (P)—If Joey Giardello wants a return bout, happy Charley (King) Cotton says the onetime leading middleweight contender can have it any time.

Giardello said he would like the chance to avenge last night's loss, his first in nearly two years. It all depends on whether Joey blows a tentative June 6 television date with Willie Vaughn.

Cotton, a 5-1 underdog, finished strong in the last three rounds last night to pull out a tight but unanimous 10-round decision.

Redtop Davis Free After Cafe Tussle

ZANESVILLE (P)—Murray Cain, 32, of Zanesville, third ranking featherweight who boxes under the name of Teddy "Redtop" Davis, yesterday was cleared of assault charges growing out of a fight in a cafe here April 17.

Municipal Judge Robert J. Merry also dismissed counter charges of assault against Rudolph Bishop, 29, of Zanesville.

"Redtop," struck over the head with a rifle barrel during a fight with Bishop was hospitalized for ten days.

Coach Challenges Ivory Tower Profs

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (P)—Head football Coach Roy Hughes of Cal Poly invited faculty members to a football clinic Wednesday because:

"We would like the academic staff to know that a knucklehead cannot play present day football and that we are just as interested in boys with high academic achievement as the college is.

"Frankly, this clinic is a gesture to sell you ivory tower profs on the union of the physical with the spiritual and to prove that the game isn't all muscle."
